

Weller Chair Filled

Dr. Harvey J. Levin of Westbury, a 40-year-old economist now at Harvard University on a Carnegie Fellowship, will be the first professor to occupy the Augustus B. Weller Chair in Economics at Hofstra University, Hempstead.

He has been on a one-year leave from the Hofstra faculty, which he joined in 1955 as an assistant professor. He was promoted to associate professor a year later and to professor in 1962.

The Weller professorship—the first fully endowed professorial chair on Long Island—is for an initial period of three years and is renewable.

Dr. Levine recently received a new grant from the Resources for the Future, a subsidiary of the Ford Foundation, to support his research on the character and management of the radio spectrum resource. He will study the most efficient use of the available radio communications frequencies from the economic and regulatory viewpoints.

DR. HARVEY J. LEVIN
First Appointee