

Hofstra University's Latin American & Caribbean Studies Program, in collaboration with the Departments of Radio, Television, Film, and Journalism, Mass Media
Studies, and Public Relations present

Unwanted Witness (Testigo Indeseable)

A public screening & discussion with Colombian Investigative Journalist Hollman Morris, the award-winning host of the independent documentary television program Contravía, and a Nieman Fellow at Harvard University.

Thursday, February 17th, 2011

7:00 to 9:30pm

Room 211 Breslin Hall

Hofstra University

The film, by Colombian director Juan Lozano, is a chronicle that narrates four months in the life of this courageous journalist – giving evidence of his condition as a victim of state-sponsored persecution, death threats, stigmatization, and intimidation, which he and his family have suffered with the complicity of the Colombian government. Hollman Morris's media work is instrumental in raising awareness regarding the victims of Colombia's internal armed conflict and their rights to justice.

For more information, call (516) 463-6062