

Alumni Achievement

Andrew F. Corrado, M.B.A. '92

Andrew F. Corrado is Nassau County Market President at Capital One Bank. In this role, he focuses on continuously improving the Capital One Bank customer experience, growing revenue and leveraging market opportunities. He plays a critical role in overseeing and coordinating company resources to help ensure that Capital One Bank is making a meaningful contribution to local communities.

Mr. Corrado also serves as senior vice president for private banking, heading Capital One's Long Island private banking team, where he oversees sales and service of the bank's commercial banking clients across Long Island. He was recently asked to lead the build out of Capital One Bank's Professional Services segment across the footprint.

With more than 22 years of experience in the banking industry, he most recently served as regional manager for Capital One Bank in Nassau County, where he was responsible for overseeing the operations of 60 branches and $6.4 billion in deposits. Mr. Corrado also served as senior vice president and director of marketing and product management for GreenPoint Savings Bank from 2002 to 2004, and vice president for product management at JPMorgan Chase and Co.

In addition to his leadership and management roles at Capital One Bank, Mr. Corrado is a long-time community advocate. He currently serves as chairman of the board of directors for the Maurer Foundation for Breast Health Education, and previously served as secretary and treasurer for Big Brothers Big Sisters of Long Island. Still an active member, he also serves on the scholarship committee for Big Brothers Big Sisters, and is working to establish the Michael J. Weisbrod Memorial Scholarship in memory of a Capital One Bank associate.

Mr. Corrado is very much involved at his alma mater, Hofstra University, where he graduated with a Master of Business Administration. He is president of the Zarb School of Business Alumni Association and was recently asked to join the advisory council board for the Hofstra North Shore-LIJ School of Medicine at Hofstra University.

In conjunction with Hofstra's Zarb School of Business and Capital One Bank's Community Development Group, Mr. Corrado helped develop the Campus Entrepreneurial Challenge program. This is a unique program that not only provides coaching and mentoring opportunities to Zarb School business students, but also provides a financial grant in the form of seed money for their business startup. This program also includes coaching and mentoring opportunities for business students from Uniondale High School.

Through his dedication and leadership roles, Andrew F. Corrado has been recognized and honored by many nonprofit organizations. In 2008, he received the Thurman Munson Corporate Hero Award by AHRC for his business leadership and his charitable and philanthropic work within the local community. Mr. Corrado was also honored with the Leadership of the Year Award from Harbor Child Care in 2009, and was recognized as Man of the Year by Big Brothers Big Sisters of Long Island in 2010.