Introducing the Knowledge Imaging Center (KIC-II) Walk-Up Scanning System

Dear Subscriber,

The Joan & Donald E. Axinn Library is proud to introduce you to our newly installed Knowledge Imaging Center (also known as the KIC). The KIC is a public walk-up scanning system for patrons, students, faculty, and administrators. The KIC makes it easy to digitize research materials from books, magazines, and journals. It is also perfect for sharing notes, or enhancing the quality of reports and papers with crystal clear color and black & white excerpts.

Other benefits of the KIC

Too big for a copier...but not too big for a KIC! Full color 17"x24" scan area - four times a letter size page!

Save directly as searchable and mark-able PDF files or save as an image to insert into a report.

Instantly clip images on-screen with the crop tool.

Save to USB flash drives or send to any email address.

Environmentally friendly - No toner, drums, paper, etc.

FREE for Students, Faculty, and Staff!!!!

We invite you to come to the Library to see the KIC for yourself. The KIC is located on the Ground Floor of the Axinn Library in the Periodicals Reading Area close to the West Exit. If this is your first time using the KIC, be sure to stop by the Periodicals Desk (also located on the Ground Floor). A trained Library employee will be happy to assist you with any questions, or will provide you with a brief lesson on how to use the KIC.

We look forward to seeing you!

Sincerely,

Joshua Liebman
