More JSTOR Now Available

Dear Subscriber,

Another group of journals was added to the heavily used JSTOR database available to Hofstra faculty and students. Arts & Sciences VI, which when complete will include the back runs of 120 journals includes such important journals as:

- Foreign Affairs (back to 1922)
- Journal of Educational Research (back to 1920)
- Population and Environment (back to 1980)

Great journals, great breadth of content, excellent searching and display capabilities ...
JSTOR is a good place to start your research.

Sincerely,

Howard E. Graves
