

Looking for peer reviewed journals? Why not try SAGE JOURNALS Online?

Dear Subscriber,

The University Library now provides online access to over 450 Sage Publications peer-reviewed journals. More than 40 disciplines are represented in this collection with coverage going back to 1999. Almost half the journals are ranked in the Thomson Scientific Journal Citation reports.

The search platform, designed by Highwire Press, provides basic and advanced searching, a variety of alerting options, and other personalization features. It won the 2007 award for best platform in the electronic publication category from the Professional and Scholarly Publishing section of the Association of American Publishers.

Sage Journals Online can be accessed as a collection through the Research Databases link on the Library's home page. Access is also available by individual journal title using Journal Finder, also on the Library's home page.
