Baylis Family Photographs, 1923-1931
0.20 cubic ft.

The photographs in the collection are assumed to be those of the Baylis family of Melville, N.Y. Included are black and white photographs depicting the sale and auction, in 1926, of a farm located on Old Country Road in Melville (west of the current Route 110, before Sweet Hollow Rd.); pictures of the working farm, including beekeepers and hives, the interior of the farm house, farm buildings, livestock, field hands, farm equipment, and crops loaded onto trucks. Other photos are of servicemen in U.S. Army and Navy uniforms, docked ships, ships under construction or repair, sailing vessels, and Navy Yard buildings, most likely in Brooklyn, N.Y. Also included are travel pictures from Florida and Niagara Falls, portrait photos, and pictures of George A. Baylis' automotive electrical service business on Wall St. in Huntington.

The collection, which spans the years 1923-1931, is composed of a photograph album containing ninety-nine photographs, a small number of loose photographs, and a handbill.
