ACCOMMODATIONS FOR DISTANCE LEARNING COURSES

Accommodations for Distance Learning Courses will not be granted to students who have not submitted the appropriate registration materials and disability documentation to Services for Students with Disabilities. Our application, self-disclosure form and disability documentation guidelines can be downloaded off of our webpage. All completed paperwork can be faxed to 516-463-7070 or emailed to ssd@hofstra.edu.

Distance Learning courses provide a unique challenge to both professor and student in regard to meeting testing accommodations. In general, any blackboard-driven exam is timed, but NOT ENFORCED. In other words, a student may complete an exam in the time allotted, including extended time, without being timed-out of the exam. The professor will be able to see the time it took for the student to complete the exam, thus ensuring that the student does not get credit for questions answered beyond the allotted additional time to which he/she is entitled. SSD staff is available to answer any of your questions pertaining to the satisfaction of these accommodations. Additionally, Paul Carson from Faculty Computing is also available to answer questions regarding blackboard testing at 516-463-4096.
