Beyond Open Doors: Integrating Pregnant Women into the Workplace

Wednesday, March 10, 2010
11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

Joanna Grossman, J.D., is a professor of law and the John DeWitt Gregory Research Scholar at Hofstra University School of Law in Hempstead, New York. She has also taught at Vanderbilt, UNC-Chapel Hill, Cardozo, and Tulane. She is an expert in sex discrimination and has written extensively about workplace equality, with a focus on issues such as sexual harassment and pregnancy discrimination. She is the co-editor of Gender Equality: Dimensions of Women's Equal Citizenship (Cambridge University Press, 2009), an interdisciplinary collection that explores the gaps between formal commitments to gender equality and the reality of women's lives. Her research also focuses on family law, with particular emphasis on same-sex marriage and the history of divorce.
