

We have the right graduate program for you.

At Hofstra University, our programs are designed to meet the needs of graduate students. Full-time professors teach graduate courses in small classes. Students have easy access to senior faculty to conduct research, find a mentor, and chart a career.

Hofstra knows that graduate specialization requires a full range of offerings. That's why we have more than 130 master's, doctoral and advanced certificate programs in business, education, the liberal arts and sciences, law and communication.

We've invested millions of dollars in advanced computer facilities that allow students to study and do research whenever and wherever they want. In fact, Hofstra ranked 14th in the 2004 Princeton Review for Most Connected Campuses in the United States.

And our location, 25 miles from Manhattan, affords students a suburban setting within an easy commute to the resources of New York City. For more information, or to arrange a campus tour, call 1-800-HOFSTRA, ext. 658.
