

Where teaching is our faculty's passion.

At Hofstra University our mission is helping our students achieve their best. With 130 undergraduate programs, Hofstra offers an opportunity to study majors ranging from accounting to African studies, English to engineering, or finance to film. Students learn in small classes taught by professors, not teaching assistants. Our facilities are uniquely advanced (Hofstra is ranked 14th in The Princeton Review's "Most Connected Campuses") and also traditional (Axinn Library holds 1.2 million volumes). And our location, 25 miles from Manhattan, affords students a suburban oasis within an easy commute to the resources of New York City.
