Patterson, Harold T., c.1880-1937. Blueprints, 1909-1935.
2.5 cubic ft.

Harold T. (Truesdell) Patterson was born in Maine, c.1880. He attended Harvard School for Landscape Architecture, graduating in 1902. He then moved to Westbury, N.Y., where, in 1905, he married Emily H. Hicks, a member of the well-known Long Island Hicks family. The couple had three children: Robert J., David M. and Elizabeth M. Patterson.

Patterson worked as a landscape architect, designing landscapes for numerous public and private projects on Long Island, most notably the grounds for the Nassau County Courthouse in Mineola and the country home of William K. Vanderbilt Sr. He was also a member of the Appalachian Mountain Club, the nation's oldest outdoor recreation and conservation organization.

Patterson died in July of 1937 and was buried in Friends Cemetery, Westbury.

The collection, which spans the years 1909-1935, is comprised of Harold T. Patterson's landscape design blueprints for the Long Island homes of B.N. Busch (Mill Neck), Ralph W. Latham (Searingtown), Henry S. Orr (East Williston) and W.H. Tripp (Munsey Park, Manhasset). Also included are blueprints for the Matinecock Neighborhood Association's public bathing and picnic beach (Bayville) and the grounds and children's playground of the Nassau County Sanatorium (Farmingdale).
