Summer Institutes and Seminars in the Humanities

Summer Institutes and Seminars—College and University Teachers National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH)

URL: <http://www.neh.gov/projects/si-university.html>

Application Deadline: March 1, 2005

Each year NEH offers teachers opportunities to study humanities' topics in a variety of Summer Seminars and Institutes. Each seminar includes fifteen participants working in collaboration with one or two leading scholars. Participants will have access to a major library collection, with time reserved to pursue individual research and study projects. Institutes provide intensive collaborative study of texts, topics and ideas central to undergraduate teaching in the humanities under the guidance of faculties distinguished in their fields of scholarship. Institutes aim to prepare participants to return to their classrooms with a deeper knowledge of current scholarship in key fields of the humanities. All teachers selected to participate in a seminar or institute will be awarded a fixed stipend of $3,000, $3,600, or $4,200 (depending on the length of the seminar or institute) to help cover the costs of travel, books and other research expenses, and living expenses. The dates and duration of each project are listed under each title. Educational Opportunity in History

Landmarks of American History Workshops

National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH)

URL: <http://www.neh.gov/projects/landmarks-college.html>

Application Deadline: March 15, 2005

Landmarks of American History Workshops are offered by the National Endowment for the Humanities to provide the opportunity for community college educators to engage in intensive study and discussion of important topics in American history. These academies will give participants direct experiences in the interpretation of significant historical sites and the use of archival and other primary historical evidence. Landmarks Workshops present the best scholarship on a specific landmark or related cluster of landmarks, enabling participants to gain a sense of the importance of historical places, to make connections between what they learn in the Workshop and what they teach, to advance their own scholarship, and to develop enhanced teaching materials for their classrooms. Faculty selected to participate will receive a stipend of $500. Stipends are intended to help cover living expenses, books, and travel expenses to and from the Workshop location. Travel supplements for those traveling long distances will be available and will be allocated after participants are selected. Adjunct and part-time lecturers as well as full-time faculty are eligible to apply. An applicant need not have an advanced degree in order to qualify. An individual may apply to and participate in a maximum of two (2) Workshops. Past or present participation in the NEH Summer Seminars and Institutes program does not affect an individual's eligibility to participate in Landmarks programs. Please direct all questions concerning individual Landmarks Workshops as well as all requests for application materials to the appropriate director(s) listed under each workshop. For further information, please visit the URLs cited below or call the Office for Research and Sponsored Programs at extension 3-6810.

Paired Fellowship for Research in Conservation and the History of Art and Archaeology 2005-2006

National Gallery of Art--Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts

URL: <http://www.nga.gov/resources/casvacon.htm>

Application Deadline: March 21, 2005

The Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts, a part of the National Gallery of Art, announces its program for the Paired Fellowship for Research in Conservation and the History of Art and Archaeology. Applications are invited from teams consisting of two scholars: one in the field of art history, archaeology, or another related discipline in the humanities or social sciences, and one in the field of conservation or materials science. Two paired fellowships are awarded annually. The Samuel H. Kress Foundation Paired Research Fellowship supports research teams working on European visual arts prior to the early nineteenth century. The J. Paul Getty Trust Paired Research Fellowship supports research teams working in any field of art history, archaeology, or architecture. The fellowship includes a two- to three-month period for field, collections, and/or laboratory research, followed by a two-month residency at the Center. Paired fellows are provided with a study and will have access to the notable resources represented by the collections, the library, and the photographic archives of the Gallery, as well as to the Library of Congress and other specialized research libraries and collections in the Washington area. Laboratory facilities in the Washington area may be made available on an ad hoc basis. Applications will be considered for study in the history and conservation of the visual arts (painting, sculpture, architecture, landscape architecture, urbanism, prints and drawings, film, photography, decorative arts, industrial design, and other arts) of any geographical area and of any period. The Paired Research Fellowships are open to those who have held the appropriate terminal degree for five years or more. An equivalent record of professional accomplishment, in exceptional cases, may fulfill this requirement. Each team member receives an award of $12,000, in addition to an allowance of up to $5,500 for project-related research and travel expenses. If relocation to Washington is necessary, up to $1,500 for round-trip travel to Washington is available. Paired Fellows may also be eligible for a $1,500 per month housing allowance made possible with funds from the Paul Mellon Bequest during the residency period at the Center. For further information, please visit the URL cited above or call the Office for Research and Sponsored Programs at extension 3-6810.

Program for Cultural Cooperation-- Between Spain's Ministry of Education, Culture, and Sports and United States' Universities

URL: <http://www.umabroad.umn.edu/pcc/>

Application Receipt Deadline: April 1*

In the spring of 1983, the Spanish Government's Minister of Culture and a distinguished group of Hispanicists from United States academic institutions decided to create a Program for Cultural Cooperation between Spain's Ministry of Education, Culture, and Sports and US universities. The program was officially inaugurated in October of that year. The program is designed to promote closer ties between scholarly Hispanicism in the US in the areas of humanities, social sciences, and the cultural and academic developments of Spain. Projects oriented toward the dissemination of Spanish culture throughout the academic systems of the US are reviewed for subsidy. Priority is given to those proposals of high scholarly quality which will have an important impact upon the field of Hispanicism, both regionally and nationwide. Since its conception, the program has granted a considerable number of subsidies supporting a variety of events. Proposals encompass visiting professorships; the publication of scholarly journals, translations, and literary texts; symposia, film series, and exhibitions; and dissertation scholarships. The projects are funded by matching contributions from the Spanish Ministry of Education, Culture, and Sports and the US universities interested in participating. Therefore, US institutions submitting applications are expected to provide part of the funding for their projects and should request only partial subsidies from the Program. Funding is available for the following categories.

- Visiting Professors
- Research
- Publications
- Spanish Cinema
- Symposia and Seminars
- Professional Associations
- Dissemination of Spanish Culture through the Arts

The deadline for the receipt of applications is April 1. Early applications are encouraged so that the administrative office may do a preliminary screening and make suggestions for changes, should they be needed, before forwarding them to the Executive Committee. Applications submitted just prior to the deadline will not be reviewed by the administrative office before they are sent to the Executive Committee members.
