Call to order

Meeting Called to order at 6: __ PM EST

A. Quorum Call

- a. Quorum set at 26

B. New Business

- a. Welcome President Poser!
 - i. Senator Introductions and Student Questions
 - 1. Chair T. Doherty moves to open the gallery
 - a. Motion seconded
 - b. Motion passed
 - 2. Senator Siegel: If possible, could you elaborate on future mask guidelines for residence halls, and future mask mandates on campus?
 - a. Unsure at this time. The Governor has changed policy and because of that I have contacted Northwell Health for their guidance. Their policy has changed as of late and this led to our email correspondence with students about mask mandates on campus. This decision is very complex, and science is telling us new things about if we need masks. We recognize that there is an emotional side of things, as we have been wearing masks for the past two years and we are cognizant of this reality. It may look like we make a change, then after some time make another change to ensure all students feel comfortable.

3. Senator Velasquez: The prevalent issue on campus is parking spaces, since this is such an issue, what are your thoughts on creating more sustainable alternatives to getting around campus?
 - a. We are working on this and coming up with a proposal with biking as an alternative. It is very unusual to have a University that has free parking, something that is unique to Hofstra. I do agree that we should be able to figure out a new way that is safe within the campus and the surrounding community.
4. Chair T. Doherty: I understand that at the beginning of your presidency you reached out to the administration about their passion project, so I am wondering, with your presidency, what is your passion project?
 - a. It is hard to choose just one. I want to make more of a national reputation for the university. The only way for us to get there would be through specific programs that we invest in. We need to have a more diverse faculty, something we are working on through training and hiring committees. I think athletics is an avenue as well, particularly basketball for us to build upon. Athletics builds community. I came to Hofstra because I saw how the university was creating a strong financial foundation and now we want to make a stronger community through academics.
5. VP Aquino: Can you give us a background on the Provost and the Presidency? How do they work together and the background of the individual that you hired?
 - a. The Provost is in charge of the academic enterprise at a university, like tenure, curriculum, and research. My role is broader in that I am responsible for everything, but at a university where academics is the focus, the President and the Provost will work together on big issues like increasing research, diversifying research. These are areas that the Provost will spearhead, working with deans. Very important that the Provost and the VP work closely together. I chose the new Provost out of a cast of great finalists because he had the best combination of a research background and his knowledge of supporting faculty, but also high levels of understanding of the rest of academic life. He is a lovely person and will command a lot of respect with our academic leaders.

6. Senator Annibali: I was a part of one of the focus groups where we focused on reputation, but my question focuses on student employment. What is the best way for student employees and administration to come together to address issues?
 - a. I was made aware of this issue and I am awaiting a study about raising the wage for students. We have a spectrum from $8.50 to well over $15 and we are looking to boost these numbers. Just waiting on this research but our goal is to have this ready at the beginning of the Fall semester. If student employees want to speak to someone, Student Affairs and HR would be great contacts.
7. Tyler: There has been a lot of frustration about the new possible guidelines; what would you say to students who are feeling concerned?
 - a. Our perspective was that we were communicating with students to some degree. This is something that we are thinking about in the wake of changes in New York state law. We needed more time, but I wanted the campus to know that we are deep in discussion and I can't give an answer right now. As of right now, there have been no changes but if you are a leader and have a position on these issues, we are all ears because this is a complicated issue. What I am being told is that we may not need the masks anymore, but we have older people, immunocompromised people so we have to consider everything. This may be something with a lot of gray areas in it.
8. Kada: We discussed this policy within our club and we feel like disabled individuals have been left out of the conversation.
9. DREAM Representative: We are pushing the mask mandate to stay in place as those with disabilities, specifically with mobility devices contracting COVID present more difficulty.
 - a. The question that we are wrestling with is, when is the risk comparable to illnesses such as the flu. What I'm being told is that boosted individuals are not suffering as severely from COVID-19. We have done our best to protect our campus. We would still strongly encourage students to wear them if they feel comfortable. We are trying to figure out how to strike that balance.

10. Comptroller Kaludis: If you could define what a research based institution is, what does that look like for you?
 - a. When you look at schools that have programs beyond bachelors programs, we have that. Using research to understand bigger ideas and understanding concepts across various disciplines. So when I say research productivity, this looks like more faculty who are doing research that can involve undergraduate students. This looks very different at larger institutions, which is why we see such an opportunity here. Our faculty hasn't been supported in pursuing research and that is something that I want to do. If we retain the character of this university and increase our research output this would be an even more special place. This also helps teachers.
11. Senator Perez: What would you do to better communicate with multicultural students and bring their voices to administration?
 - a. I really work hard to meet with students and I accept invitations frequently to meet with students. I would love to communicate with these students and the great thing about Hofstra is that I can meet with students and understand their experience.
12. Chair Campbell: I have heard from students about the research aspect, do you think in the coming years with research becoming more prevalent the credit limit would be raised?
 - a. I don't have an answer right now and this is something the Provost could work on. I would strongly encourage you to invite him to your meetings next fall.
13. Chair Liebowitz: How does your administration plan to positively change the environment as we come out of the pandemic?
 - a. I am not sure if our campus needs cultural change. Retention and graduation rates of students is a very high priority, something that we are working very hard on. In the fall, we are going to earnestly work on this. We are currently studying DFWs rates (Ds, Fs, Withdrawals) and ranking them in relation to retention. These kinds of things create barriers and after just six months this is something I am still learning about and something that will be focused on much more in the coming year. This requires us to look at the climate of the classrooms, advising.

14. VP Aquino: Do you have any questions about our Student Governance?

a. Right now I am very interested in your opinions on the masking rules, and what you perceive to be the pulse of the student body.

i. Chair Funk: We met with Jean Peden Christdoulou where we discussed student feedback and I will share with her and you.
