  - i. Senator Papsadero moves to open the gallery
    - 1. Motion seconded
    - 2. Motion passed

B. New Business

- a. Provost Riordan Visits Senate
  - i. I joined the team in early July of the year. I wanted to come and answer any questions you all may have. Living in the state of New York for the first time in a while. I went to a small liberal arts school, college was an engaging experience with the admin who ensured I was successful. One of my passions is to pay that forward and at Hofstra I want to make your academic experience enriching. As SGA you all believe in helping and serving other students. I went through some of the same experiences as you during my time in college as a student athlete and RA. I want to be able to ensure this for our students here as well. The opportunities we have shape us and really help us become who we are. Now at Hofstra there is a lot of change including myself as Provost. My responsibilities are that the academic programs are robust and welcoming and that we innovate the classroom experience. I work with the departments to ensure opportunities for students. We are currently working hard about the future of Hofstra and what the student experience will be like. We want to learn more about what's special about Hofstra and learn from others who are potential new students, and what does it mean to graduate from Hofstra and be engaged and vital leaders in our community. By 2035, the jobs that will exist have not been created yet, and that will also be when Hofstra celebrates its 100 year anniversary. There is tremendous change in our society currently and has been happening for quite some time. I have learned that Hofstra has extremely engaged students and they ask many good questions.

1. Chair Anniballi: My question relates to classrooms and their lack of clocks within them. We have gotten suggestions of phones and computers, but some professors do not prefer this. What is your opinion on this?
  - a. I have heard this about once or twice, I have had experiences with classrooms all having clocks within them, we will be looking into this. I haven't looked at a clock in some time, no pun intended.
    - i. Senator Siegel: As an add on, I wanted to say that a lot of professors look to students as well to tell them the time
2. Senator Livingston: What were the University of Delaware's policies on religious observances?
  - a. The University posts the academic calendar each year and you will see it is a relatively secular calendar. There is a message that goes out each year to remind them of the policy that allows for students to observe their holidays and if students are observing, there is the expectation that the professor is respectful and accommodating.
    - i. Chair Jackson: Multiple students have come and told us about instances where the professor has not felt respected and have had comments said to them about them taking the time off.
      1. These stories are needed because it makes it real but I want to make clear that the message sent out comes from both the Provost and Cornell Craig. We can begin to send out reminders as well starting from this.
        - a. Senator Siegel: I am the VP of Hofstra Hillel, and have heard many stories about these same instances. I even have seen that most professors look at this policy as only in regard to exams

- i. We will continue to remind and we encourage you to have these conversations with the faculty. We want to have a community here that has a strong level of communication and respect here. I apologize if anyone has felt that this is not how they have been treated. We recommend that you have a conversation with the faculty early on in the semester when you will be missing classes and how to accommodate that.
  - b. Senator Siegel: I feel like these professors are pushing back and do not seem to care if there are not multiple students out.
    - i. From a practical perspective, we have a strength in the diversity of the student body. Many religions and no religion are all celebrated.
  - c. Senator Katz: There are some soft comments such as “Do you really need to miss, you are going to be behind”
    - i. I do not believe that this language should be used at all. We will be putting our heads together to create the community that we all want.
- 3. Vice President Singh: How was your transitional period?
  - a. It was honestly a good time to be able to learn and grow. It has been so much fun to be here, all institutions are about the quality of the people but I had heard wonderful things about the students and staff here. Hofstra was made to be out to be home for everyone, but the comments did not do it all justice. I like to work and like having meaningful and impactful work. Here at Hofstra is where I can do this. I came in during January to tour but still loved it. I am blown away by the diversity of the students and we are continuing within our faculty as well to create a sense of community and belonging. Loves the Mets, Giants & Islanders

4. Ethics and Conduct Chair Egolf: You mentioned that you were a chemistry professor. How have these experiences helped you in this position as a Provost?

a. I would answer it in 2 ways, during undergraduate research I learned how much was learned outside of the classroom and how I could apply it and learn even more. We want an engaging experience. The other reason is because I loved teaching in the classroom and I was attracted to Hofstra as we have a wonderful balance between scholarship and learning. It is remarkable to see this constellation of academic programs. I wanted to get back to understanding the student experience. I try to be mindful of the students, my ask of you is to say hello! Talk to me and come see me!

5. Chair Boothe: Do you have any specific visions or goals?

a. I think there are some really interesting programs here but I would like to improve the strong ones and even make some new ones. I want different departments to come together to fuse some of the learning. We would also like to see the success of our students grow and retention rates grow.

6. Chair Pandit: Was there one moment you realized that you wanted to go down this path and are you interested in humanity based research because we are currently mostly science based?

a. I remember some of the classes that I took in my undergrad and I think that we need to value, appreciate, and recognize each discipline. It can be a fantastic way for students to launch and create a new community. Chemists solve problems and Provost get handed a lot of problems.

b. AMWA (American Medical Women's Association) Club Recognition

i. We are open to all members of those who are studying healthcare, and medicine. We do focus on women as they are facing the most inequity in the field. We hold meetings on a regular basis and hold events. We have had guest speakers and fundraisers. We have a resume-building workshop. SGA recognition would help with funding and improve our programs and events.

1. Chair Jackson: Would you ever be interested in collaborating for Women's History Month?
  - a. We would like to do something like this.
2. Senator Tauro: What is the class-standing of your current eboard?
  - a. Our eboard is made of a 3 seniors, 2 juniors and one sophomore
3. Comptroller Fountain: How many people are on your Getinvolved?
  - a. We have 157 members on Getinvolved.
4. Chair Jackson: Are there any other collabs with orgs on campus that you are trying to work on?
  - a. We would have been in contact with SWAY. We were looking to create an event for the spring. We would also like to do more guest speakers.
5. Senator Siegel: How many people come to meetings on average?
  - a. We get about 20 members on average each meeting.
- ii. Senator Greenlaw moves to recognize AMWA
  1. Motion Seconded
  2. Motion passed
- c. Club Roller Hockey Club Recognition
  - i. Our eboard is made of sophomores, juniors and seniors. We were created 20 years ago as a co-ed team. We practice once a week with about 15 players. We have 5 scheduled tournaments, 3 in this coming semester. We fundraised for multiple charities, our biggest being St. Baldricks. We want to continue our path we are on right now, and teaming up with other organizations to create a supportive community between not only other teams but the University as a whole. SGA can help to bring the pride to tournaments, help fundraising, dues for the league, and to encourage others to join in on this fun!
    1. Chair Stadaker: Why are the practices at midnight?
      - a. Our practices are this late because most of the time slots have already been filled.
    2. Comptroller Fountain: How many people are on your Getinvolved?
      - a. We have 20 on Getinvolved and 15 that come to practice.
    3. Chair Atlas: Do you charge dues from your players?
      - a. We do not specifically charge dues, we pay for practice time out of pocket. We do not charge general dues, but we do have official league dues.
    4. Comptroller Fountain: A due for a national club is fine but general dues are not fine, to Sam's point.

5. Chair DeCrescenzo: Very dedicated to this organization, and the leadership is very focused on bringing the club back to its former glory.
6. Chair Jackson: I think their philanthropy is very moving and we should take this as a learning opportunity for SGA.

b. Jess Eads & Jean Peden Christodoulou Visit Senate!

- i. Jean Peden Christodoulou: I spent 8 years working with students across many organizations on campus that help with students. Kept students compliant with COVID regulations. Moved over to work as Chief advisor on Dr. Poser's staff. Help enact Poser's vision for Hofstra. Bringing past experiences to Hofstra on Poser's board. Work closely with Poser's Cabinet. If anyone ever needs anything please contact me with concerns or questions.
- ii. Jess Eads: A Hofstra alumni, started working as a research assistant, moved onto admissions. I am the dean of admissions. Wasn't able to continue with promises made to prospective students beyond admission as VP of Enrollment so this created the marriage of Enrollment and Division of Student Affairs and is now known as Division of Student Enrollment Engagement and Success. Helping you from being a prospective student all the way to when you graduate. Find ways to get more students involved. Helping in every aspect of student life outside of the classroom. Needs students' opinion if we're doing the right thing. Actively listening to what the goals and wants of the student body is.
- iii. Questions:
  1. Chair Jackson: I'm the equity and inclusion chair. Could you elaborate on the University's policies with religious holidays and how professors can help be more sensitive to their religious observances?
    - a. Jean: Faculty get info from Provost office and asked to make sure activity can be made up. Given a list of observed holidays and told they can have someone cover them on their observed holidays. Work together and be communicative from both students and faculty. Not spelled out word by word exactly what to say.
    - b. Jess Eads: Listened to students express their challenges, put together a project time in Student Affairs. A communication plan to be enacted to remind faculty of religious holidays in a series of emails. Anita Ellis & Gillian Atkinson a part of this. Anita is the "go to" with what reminders we need. Working on student messaging and forwarding to faculty.
  2. Senator Siegel: Some religious holidays require no technology and students are still required to turn in assignments, how can we work on this problem?
    - a. Jess Eads: Bring this up to provost and faculty.

- b. Jean: Connect to the Provost office with personal cases about professors possibly not respecting religious observances. Identify policy issues and personal.
  - c. Senator Siegel: I do believe that this is a policy issue, I have seen and heard quite a few people bring up this issues but don't know how to bring it up.
  - d. Jess: A ton of work can be done wo help this issue.This is definitely something to bring up to Anita. Also Rabbi Dave who is on the committee.
- 3. Chair Anniballi: I am the Appropriations chair, asked about hours of operations on campus last week. Concerns about length of hours on campus.
  - a. Jess: I already solved that problem! It will be effective Nov 1st. We just approved the gym to be extended to 11 pm during the week, and a little later on the weekend. I am still working on live instructors as well.
- 4. Senator Papsadero: I sit on the wellness and campus safety committee. Chair Stadaker is working on a free menstrual product proposal in bathrooms on campus. What are your thoughts about this proposal?
  - a. Sev: They are proposing to have free menstrual products in the bathrooms starting in the student center.
  - b. Jess: I am certainly in support of it, I just don't know much yet. It's gotta come to me, but I would like to look into more.
- 5. Chair Pandit: I have two questions. Club Swim is wondering if it's possible to reserve hours in the swim center?
  - a. Jess: I am not sure. I would need to check more, that's more on the athletic side. It should probably go to Pat first, and then Sev and I can bring it back up to the Swim Club
  - b. Jean: We can certainly connect the question. There is a lot more that goes into that. We need more details but we can certainly bring it up.
  - c. Sev: Definitely doable. Just a matter of connecting to the right person.
- 6. Chair Pandit: Second question is more related to academic affairs. There is talks of Hofstra becoming a more research based institution, what are the updates on this?
  - a. Jean: I am excited to say that since we had this Hofstra vision project, there was an executive report with some themes that came out of it- we have many aspirations to be more research based. It is really important to President Poser as well as our new Provost. They have also been talking to faculty also very interested in it- there is a committee of faculty in order to brainstorm ideas on what we can do. Stay tuned!

- b. Jess: It is connected to how we recruit. One of the big things about our school of engineering; our undergraduate students are already doing research, and that is attracting students. As soon as we add layers of research opportunities in other programs, we will definitely be able to showcase that.
7. Senator Siegel: If Hofstra becomes more research based, what will happen to the arts program?
- a. Jess: There is also a vision and dream to enhance the arts as well. It is near and dear to us all, and we have a really incredible program. Of all the students we admit, how many people actually choose us? Our arts and comms department have the highest yields, so it is definitely not going to be forgotten
  - b. Jean: Strengthening and defining our core liberal arts programs. It's not just research, but all of it.
8. Senator Genfound: Is there a way to implement better training into mental and physical health for students and sensitivity from professors?
- a. Jess: mental health is another thing that is top on our priority list- how can we set up our students for success and make sure students have what they need to do so. We have a whole wellness area so we can support you outside of the classroom- but in the classroom is also important so we are coming up with ways to inform and train the professors, and looking for the best way to train them.
9. Chair Giovannagelo: One of the biggest things in my committee is the 18th credit and how our tuition only covers 17 credits. Is there any information about this initiative?
- a. Jess: It is something we are looking at and trying to understand. Lots of ways to look at this but it remains a priority.

10. Senator Barone: I was recently put on probation while taking a mental health break. Are there any guidelines professors can follow for the mental health of students?
- a. Jess: We have a lot of work to do regarding this. No college campus really knows what to do. It may on paper seem very simple but it is actually very complex and needs a lot of thinking to find a solution- we need to find one, but it is not that simple. Unintended consequences happen from too quick of action.
  - b. Jean: I do believe in the importance of mental health of students. We need to figure out how to respond to these concerns and have people who are active listeners. Regarding the policy, we want to be able to voice how there is no strong attendance policy in the institution. Flexibility allows for many issues and makes things complicated.
11. Chair Boothe: I'm the programming chair. I'm an RA in Csquare and you worked right away on the hydration station. I appreciate you taking time out for my concerns. What accomplishments are you most proud of working at Hofstra?
- a. Jean: I'll give just one. I was responsible for a lot that we did around COVID. I got to be a part of the most amazing community organization during the hardest time. I was really proud to be a part of that. Also, a lot of the physical changes to the campus that SGA is a part of. It was really neat to be a part of them, you really have more power than you think and it's rewarding to see the starts of all that.
  - b. Jess: That is hard! Two things. Firstly, I admire all of you and every time a student group accomplishes something amazing, I am proud of all of you. We spend a lot of time reading your profiles and admissions, so when we see these students work hard it is great for me. Secondly, I am proud of how long my team has worked for me. You need stability for great things to happen, and people who have been there for a while and recognize issues and concerns. Building loyalty is important and I'm proud of that.
12. Senator Hernandez: Because of these new hours, during the holidays and summers will the times be different as well?
- a. Jess: (checking her phone for the proposal) The actual hours are now 7am-11pm Mon-Fri. Weekends are now 10am-5pm. I will write to them and have them keep in mind Holidays and Summer. We will monitor that. I sent an email out Monday asking for people to get involved and join a group to talk to me and work on different initiatives. Main goal is to gauge what is most important to students.

13. Senator Nogueira: Since there is talk about the fitness centers change of hours, could this extend to the student center and other dining areas on campus?

a. Jess: I am very much working on that. The eateries and the book store- extending the hours. And the lines! It will take some time, but there needs to be better solutions. We are working with Compass, and are having some meetings to reimagine where things are located, etc.

14. Senator Siegel: On other campuses there are student workers? Would this happen here?

a. Jess: We are unionized on campus. So sadly that is not something we can do.

15. Senator Genfound: Are there any ways to push hours earlier for fitness for those with early class.

a. That will be round two. We wanted to make sure we got this first, but I will definitely keep pushing

b. Jean: Because of budgeting, there weren't any ways to have longer hours. Now they will monitor these hours and see if students will use these facilities. Make sure to spread the word about these new hours.

i. Chair DeCrescenzo: This is about the new external advocacy branch of SGA. This will be for organizations who do not feel like they are a club and want to work more closely with advocacy and students. Previously, there was no official rules so the aim was to make simple terms for rules and regulations of advocacy groups. Rules include external advocacy groups must be in full adherence of the SGA policy series, they must be undergraduate students enrolled at Hofstra. Each EAG must appoint a liaison, they will sit on committees and come to Senate monthly, want to have clear communication of SGA and a person on the EAB. Should SGA decide to change any rules or procedures regarding the EAB the representative must attend the Senate meeting. Failure to follow these rules is defined as a misconduct and may result in a suspension of partnership with SGA.

- ii. Senator Siegel: What is the difference between EAB and EAG?
- iii. Chair DeCrescenzo: They are two different things. They will not be officially apart of Senate.
- iv. Comptroller Fountain: Making it so that they are not a member of gallery and can speak freely.
- v. Chair Anniballi: The EAB is made up of external advocacy groups.
- vi. Chair Boothe: Why are we linking them to a Senatorial Action instead of the constitution?
- vii. Chair Anniballi: Since these are policies we decided to put it towards the policy series as a Senatorial Action.
- viii. Senator Guenford: What is the reason for the EAB's not being on Senate?
- ix. President Germaine: This was something we passed in the 86th senate. Came from administration wanting BLAC to have a place on campus. BLAC does not see themselves as a club so the idea of an EAG came up to help them find a place.
