

The Marriage and Family Therapy Program in the School of Education, Health and Human Services, in conjunction with Long Island Association for Marriage and Family Therapy cordially invite you to join us for a one-day workshop with

Frank Dattilio, PhD, ABPP

on

Cognitive-Behavioral Strategies with Couples and Families

Friday, April 1st, 2011 from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

The Cultural Center Theater, South Campus, Hofstra University

Frank M. Dattilio, Ph.D., ABPP, is one of the leading figures in the world on cognitive-behavior therapy. He maintains faculty appointments in the Departments of Psychiatry at both Harvard Medical School and the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. He is a licensed psychologist and a clinical member of the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy. Dr. Dattilio is the recipient of numerous national awards, including the 2010 Marriage and Family Therapist of the Year award issued by the Pennsylvania Association of Marriage and Family Therapy. In addition, he has over 250 professional publications and 17 books. To date, his works have been translated into 27 languages and are used in 80 countries throughout the world. We are delighted to welcome him to Hofstra University where he will share one of his areas of expertise in applying cognitive-behavior therapy to the treatment of couple and family problems
