

HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY MUSEUM

Second Saturdays at the HUM

In each session, led by HUM educators, kids ages 5-10 or 10-12 and their grown up companions explore works of art and engage in a hands-on activity inspired by what they have seen and discussed.

Fall 2015 Program Schedule

September 12 - Circle It!

Explore artist Doug Hilson's use of circles and color in his "urbanscapes," and then create a colorful circular work of art.

October 10 - Drive It!

This session, we'll check out sculpture made of old auto parts, and using found objects, you will then create your own work of art.

November 14 - Scope It!

"Look into" the mystical, colorful urban landscapes of Doug Hilson, and then make your own kaleidoscope to bring some of the magic home.

December 12 - Resist It!

Explore Doug Hilson's "jungle" of colorful landscapes, and then use materials to create an exciting metropolis of your own.

*Please note - this session is suited for children ages 10-12 and runs from 1:00 - 2:30 p.m.

Did you know members get FREE ADMISSION to programs?
(1 free child per individual membership, 2 free children per family membership)
Members can also be moved to the front of the wait list line when a session is sold out!

FEE:

$5 per child for each prepaid session; $7 per child when paid the day of program.
$9 per child for two prepaid sessions. $12 per child for three sessions when prepaid.
*Free admission for adult companions, HUM members and Hofstra students/faculty/staff/
PEIR members with valid HofstraCard.*

This program is made possible with funding from the New York State Council on the Arts with the support of Governor Andrew Cuomo and the New York State Legislature.

Council on the Arts

Space is very limited - registration is required!

Call the Hofstra University Museum at 516-463-5672 to register or for more information