RATIONALE FOR PROGRAM

As per Mission Statement for HOFSTRA Study Abroad Programs (p 1 above), students participating in HOFSTRA Study Abroad Programs will develop an awareness of the diversity of world cultures and a sensitivity to global issues and concerns. Specifically, students will be able to a) demonstrate some knowledge of the intellectual and cultural traditions of at least one country outside of the United States; and b) demonstrate some increased understanding of and appreciation for the complexities of intra- and inter-cultural human relations on various levels. (1) With reference to the Mission Statement, learning goal, and learning objectives stated above, specify the pedagogical and cultural goals of the program. 2) Address the way the program fits into the department's(s') curriculum and/or into an interdisciplinary program or programs. 3) Address the relationship between the proposed new or substantially changed program and any existing programs. Explain how the new or changed program complements existing programs, and/or how it avoids competing with existing programs.)
