The sports journalism programs at Hofstra Continuing Education are an invaluable experience for young people who are interested in pursuing a career in the business.

You're never too young to get a head start on your career, and attending one of the camps is beneficial for so many reasons. First, we teach you all of the basics of Sportscasting, play by play, radio updates, television updates and etc..., and you'll find out if this is really what you want to do with your life.

Second, you get mentored by people who have done it before; Mike Breen, Kenny Albert, Len Berman, Freddie Coleman & Tracy Wolfson are just a few of the professionals who have come to give advice on how to make it in the field. Lastly, it's so important to become a better communicator, whether it's on the air or off, and you'll learn the skills to do that in these classes.
