WHY MAJOR/MINOR IN GLOBAL STUDIES AND/OR GEOGRAPHY?

- We prepare students for a wide-variety of future careers. Global Studies was recently named among the top 10 majors for “the new economy.”
- Geography has become more sought after by employers particularly for those with knowledge of mapping and digital data analysis with Geographic Information Systems (GIS).
- Our graduates have found work in diverse fields and are prepared for a wide variety of graduate programs (law, urban planning, policy, international business, geography, policy studies, medicine, and journalism).
- About 30% of our recent graduates that have pursued graduate degrees have attended Law School; over 20% have attended programs in GIS, Urban Planning and/or Geography; around 20% have attended programs in various forms of public policy and around 15% attended programs related to education, teaching and/or public service (including Teach for America and the Peace Corps). Some have gone to Medical and Dental School, while others have pursued MBAs.
- The Pre-Med major in both Global Studies and Geography. GIS is an increasingly important tool used in the health care profession.
- Our majors can also partake in the pre-law LEAP program.
- Global Studies allows students to build a program around their own interests.
- We encourage all our majors to study abroad or undertake for-credit internships.
• Our cost-effective semester length “European Odyssey,” provides our majors/minors with the opportunity to earn a full semester of credits while travelling through Europe.
• We are willing to help students tailor a program of study that’s right for them and help them shape rewarding post-Hofstra careers in our increasingly global future.
• Our faculty are globally recognized experts in their fields, and we provide excellent advisement and work with students to get them through the program as quickly and cost-effectively as possible.
• A large number of our majors are also in Honors College and we routinely produce more Honors Dissertations per year than any other major in the Social Sciences and/or Humanities.
• We have an active student club, and our geography majors have the opportunity of joining Mu Kappa, our chapter of Gamma Theta Upsilon, the International Geography Honors Society.

WHAT IS NEEDED FOR ME TO COMPLETE A MAJOR IN GLOBAL STUDIES?

Requirements are:

• 33 semester hours (sh) of credits, including GS 001, GS 002, GS 180, and GEOG 001.
• At least 6 sh chosen from GS 014F/S, 100, 104, 105, 108, 109, 120, 151, 170, 190, GEOG 005, 006, 060, 135, 160, 191.
• At least 6 sh of electives in Global Politics, Economics and Culture (see courses listed below).
• At least 6 sh of electives in Regional Studies (see courses listed below).
• Please see the full requirements listed in the Bulletin.

WHAT IS THE QUICKEST WAY FOR ME TO COMPLETE A MAJOR IN GLOBAL STUDIES?

• Declare the major as early as possible so that you can get customized advice from your departmental advisor.
• Try to double dip as many courses as possible. This means that you should try and fulfill your Hofstra distribution requirements with courses that also count toward the Global Studies major or minor. To make it easy for you, a full list of courses is supplied later in this document.
• Take your major requirements (except for GS 180) as early as possible.
• Declare your minor or second major as early as possible. We make it very easy to complete a GS major with either a second major (especially in Geography) or with Geography minor (see below).

ARE THERE ANY SPECIAL LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS?

No. We recommend that students study a foreign language but we have no language requirements beyond those needed for a regular Hofstra degree.

DO YOU ALLOW INTERNSHIPS?

We not only allow internships, we strongly encourage you to do them. We constantly advertise internship opportunities on our Facebook Group and will work with you to help find relevant internships. We also have information about internships and careers on our website.
I HAVE TRANSFER CREDITS – DO THESE COUNT TOWARD THE DEGREE?

A lot of these credits may count. You should come and see the Chair and he will look at them and let you know what can be counted. Remember that the Chair can waive certain requirements and offer substitutions for some classes.

I AM A JUNIOR WITH A LOT OF DIFFERENT CREDITS, SOME THAT SEEM TO COUNT, HOW DO I KNOW WHAT TO DO?

You should come and see the Chair or your Center for University Advisement (CUA) Advisor who will go through your credits with you. You can also see Dean Binder in CUA who specializes in advising students in our majors (he can be contacted at BertBinder@hofstra.edu). A lot of courses that you have already taken are likely to count toward the Major.

CAN I DOUBLE MAJOR?

Yes you can. One of the great advantages of a Global Studies major is how it allows you to double major. We have many double majors, in programs as diverse as Drama, Economics, History, Political Science, Psychology, Journalism, Public Relations, Philosophy, Sustainability and Sociology. Given the way the program is set up, it is especially easy to double major in Global Studies and Geography. We even have a few triple majors!

WHAT ARE THE ADVANTAGES OF BEING A DOUBLE MAJOR?

Being a double major adds to your versatility and aids your future career options. It shows employers that you were an ambitious and serious student. It also obviously enhances your own knowledge of more than one discipline. Anything that gives you an edge in the workplace is to your advantage. Consistent with national trends, the average cumulative GPA for declared double majors at Hofstra is almost 10% higher than the average for students with single majors. Around 30% of all double majors in Hofstra College are from our Department. A double (or even triple) major is more beneficial than adding two or three minors to your major.

I’M IN THE SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATIONS; IS IT EASY AND BENEFICIAL TO DOUBLE MAJOR WITH GLOBAL STUDIES?

Global Studies (and/or Geography) makes an excellent fit with students who are pursuing careers in any form of media or public relations. It is also very easy for you to double major and currently over 20% of our double majors come from your School, particularly from students double majoring in Journalism and PR. We count the following School of Communication courses toward the Global Politics, Economics and Culture electives: JRNL 001, 020, 021, MASS 001, 012, 101, 104, 109, 110, 125, 130, RHET 53, 55, 138, 139 and RTVF 131.

By taking some of the above courses you can complete up to 9 sh of the 15 sh of electives that can be taken outside of our Department. You would still need to take the 18 sh of required courses and 6 sh of regional electives, but you can double dip these courses with your AA, LT, CC, BH, IS and NS distribution requirements. With the correct advisement, our major is thus extremely efficient for you to complete without taking any focus away from your major in the School of Communications.
I’M IN THE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS; IS IT EASY TO ADD A MINOR IN GLOBAL STUDIES?

The short answer is yes, it is. We count a wide variety of Business School classes toward our degree and you can also use our 3 required classes to fulfill your CC, BH and IS distribution requirements. For example, if you took any three of the following courses: ACCT 128, FIN 101, 111, 165, 166, IB 150, 154, 170, 175, 185, MGT 125, 142, 160, 171, MKT 171, PHI 014 (the required ethics class) and IB 160, 161, 162 or 163 and then took GS 001 for an IS credit, GS 002 for a CC credit and GEOG 001 for a BH credit, you would have a Minor in Global Studies. Conversely it is very easy for a Global Studies major to minor in International Business.

WHAT IS NEEDED FOR A MINOR IN GLOBAL STUDIES?

- 18 sh, including GS 001, GS 002 and GEOG 001.
- At least 3 sh of electives in Global Politics, Economics and Culture (see courses listed below).
- At least 3 sh of electives in Regional Studies (see courses listed below).
- We have an increasing number of minors from the Business School and the School of Communications.

IF I MAJOR IN GLOBAL STUDIES AND I WANT TO DO A MINOR IN GEOGRAPHY, WHAT IS THE QUICKEST WAY TO FINISH?

- You need 18 sh: You can apply the following GS credits: GS 001, GS 002, GEOG 001.
- You should then take 2 Regional Geography classes that will also count toward your GS degree, e.g., GEOG 113C and GEOG 145. These must be one hundred level classes.
- You also need to take GEOG 002.

SO I CAN GET A MINOR IN GEOGRAPHY BY JUST TAKING ONE EXTRA COURSE?

Correct, Geography 2.

IS IT REALLY THIS EASY TO ADD A MAJOR IN GLOBAL STUDIES AND A MINOR IN GEOGRAPHY?

Yes, that’s one reason why our program is so popular. We allow you to build a program based on your own interests and we give you specialized advisement to have you finish your requirements as quickly and easily as possible.

The key to saving time and money is to declare your major as soon as possible and then choose courses that fulfill multiple requirements at the same time e.g., GS 1, which is a GS requirement and fulfills your Hofstra IS distribution requirement (and counts toward the major in Geography).

IF I MAJOR IN GLOBAL STUDIES AND I WANT TO ADD A DUAL MAJOR IN GEOGRAPHY, WHAT IS THE QUICKEST WAY TO FINISH?

- You need 30 sh: You can apply the following GS credits: GS 001, GS 002, and Geography 001.
- You can apply two other Geography classes from the GS major toward the Geography major: e.g., GEOG 060, GEOG 145, GEOG 191.
- You will then need 5 additional geography classes, including GEOG 002, GEOG 060, GEOG 191.
SO I GET A DOUBLE MAJOR BY TAKING JUST 5 EXTRA GEOGRAPHY CLASSES?

Correct. We make it as straight-forward and cost effective as possible for you to complete a double major.

IF I MAJOR IN GEOGRAPHY, IS IT POSSIBLE TO DO A MINOR IN GLOBAL STUDIES OR A JOINT MAJOR WITH GLOBAL STUDIES?

- Yes it is. Most of the information supplied above, applies equally to a Geography major who wants to do a dual major in Global Studies.
- Our advice is that you should choose courses carefully and double dip as much as possible.

I HAVE HEARD THAT THE JOB MARKET IS REALLY TOUGH. WHY MAJOR IN GLOBAL STUDIES AND/OR GEOGRAPHY?

Within an increasingly globalized world, employers are looking for motivated and talented students who can think independently and are able to write well, present oral arguments and have a wide knowledge of the world around them. Both Global Studies and Geography provide our majors with the type of skills that should allow them to demonstrate their ability in the workplace. We place particular emphasis on developing critical and independent thinking, and building your writing skills. The knowledge you gain about global processes and of other societies and cultures will be a major asset in the workplace.

WHAT EXACTLY DO GEOGRAPHERS DO? (Hint: It’s not names and capitals)

Geography straddles the Natural and Social Sciences. Some geographers study climate change, others work as cartographers, some study cultural changes, others economic processes, while still others model population shifts. Geographers work in occupations as different as the U.S. military, county government, Google, educational fields, the U.S. Census Bureau, and in various types of computer modeling and mapping firms. Some of the fastest and most lucrative areas of job growth in the U.S. are in Geosciences and Geographic Information Systems (GIS). Many job resources can be found by looking at the American Association of Geographers career resources page. For careers in the environment or sustainability you can consult this comprehensive listing of jobs. ESRI, the maker of mapping software ArcGIS, also lists many pages of jobs using GIS in multiple professions. Similarly, you can visit GeoJobSource.com for many Geo job listings. Our geography concentration in GIS is designed to allow students to expand their GIS knowledge to better prepare them for careers in GIS or careers that make substantial use of GIS skills.

I AM DOING A B.S. DEGREE, IS IT POSSIBLE TO ADD A GIS MAJOR?

Yes, it most certainly is. We have a BS major in GIS that can be taken as standalone major or as a double major. Adding GIS knowledge to a major in Engineering, Geology, Biology or any of the other hard sciences will add an important skill set to your existing major and enhance your career prospects. Our B.S. major also double dips a lot of requirements from other programs (and distribution categories) and should allow you to double major without costing you any additional time at Hofstra.
I AM A COMPUTER SCIENCE MAJOR AND I SAW THAT YOU HAVE A JOINT MINOR IN GIS AND COMPUTER SCIENCE. CAN I ADD GIS AS A JOINT MAJOR WITH COMPUTER SCIENCE?

Yes, the major builds on the same courses in the joint minor, so it would just require you to add additional GIS courses (some of which could also be from other Departments). A double major in GIS and Computer Science should make you a very competitive candidate on the job market, and would be ideal training if you wanted to pursue GIS at a graduate level.

I AM INTERESTED IN A CAREER IN HEALTHCARE AND/OR WANT TO BE A DOCTOR, IS THERE ANY POINT IN MAJORING IN GLOBAL STUDIES AND/OR GEOGRAPHY?

The short answer is “YES.” Diseases do not respect international boundaries and it is increasingly necessary for medical professionals to have good knowledge of other societies and how disease vectors spread globally. Medical professionals also are making use of GIS skills to map and track diseases both within and between countries and even within the human body. We offer Pre-Med majors in both Global Studies and Geography and in Spring 2015 we had our first graduates with these specializations. Since then a number of our recent graduates have gone on to Medical or Dental School. So to quote a recent article from MIT (Sloan School), the “Prognosis for GIS in Health Care is Excellent.” Many of our geography majors have gone on to graduate school in GIS and all have found excellent employment opportunities. For example, one of our recent graduates just started working in GIS at Apple.

To help you make the correct choices, we have provided a list of all the classes that count toward the major and minor in Global Studies and Geography. To make it easier we have also provided a list that highlights which Hofstra distribution courses also count toward a major or minor in Global Studies/Geography. If you are advised properly, a large proportion of your distribution requirements will also count toward your Global Studies/Geography major or minor.

All information below applies to Bulletin Year 2017-18 onward.

You should consult the prior Hofstra Bulletin or our website for information on prior Bulletin Years. Students from prior years can, with appropriate advisement, alter their Bulletin year to the current year.

Computer Science and Geographic Information Systems, Minor in

Geographic Information Systems (GIS) manage information, conduct analysis, and produce knowledge by connecting or synthesizing data together using location as a common index. The minor in Computer Science and Geographic Information Systems (CSGIS) allows students to complete a broad-based interdisciplinary course of study of computing concepts and methods with applications in geographic information systems (GIS) and spatial analysis. Students will learn the foundations of computational systems and apply that knowledge to efficiently visualize, manage, and analyze geographic data.

GIS, coupled with a background in Computer Science, is a powerful skill set valued in many professional fields, including government agencies, businesses, research, and non-profit organizations. The minor can be taken by students of any major, and is particularly suitable for majors in Computer Science or Geography.
The minor in CSGIS consists of the successful completion of a minimum of 20 semester hours. It includes four required courses: CSC 014 – (MA, CS) Discrete Structures for Computer Science I (3 sh), CSC 015 – (CS) Fundamentals of Computer Science I: Problem Solving and Program Design (4 sh), GEOG 060 – Introduction to Geographic Information Systems and Digital Maps (3 sh), and GEOG 160 – Intermediate Geographic Information Systems (3 sh). It also includes a minimum of 4 semester hours of selected electives in computer science and 3 semester hours of selected electives in geography. A completed minor in CSGIS will be listed on the student’s transcript.

1. Required Core Courses – Total Semester Hours: 13

- CSC 014 – (MS, CS) Discrete Structures for Computer Science I 4 sh
- GEOG 060 – Introduction to Geographic Information Systems and Digital Maps 3 sh
- GEOG 160 – Intermediate Geographic Information Systems 3 sh

2. Computer Science Electives – Total Semester Hours: minimum 4

- CSC 016 – (CS) Fundamentals of Comp. Science II: Data Structure, Algorithms and Object-Oriented Programming 4 sh
- CSC 184 – Introduction to Mobile Device Programming 3 sh
- CSC 160 – Fundamentals of Game Development 3 sh

3. Global Studies and Geography Electives: a minimum of 3 semester hours of electives chosen from the following list:

- GEOG 159 – (IS) Cartographic Communication: The Power of Mapmaking 3 sh
- GEOG 161 – Geographic Information Systems (GIS) for the Natural Sciences 3 sh
- GEOG 162 – (IS) Geospatial Remote Sensing 3 sh
- GEOG 170 – Advanced Geographic Information Systems (GIS) 3 sh

Any course taken in the minor in Computer Science and Geographic Information Systems cannot also be applied toward the minor in “Geography, Geographic Information Systems.”

Pre-Health (Pre-Medical) Studies, B.A. Major in Global Studies and/or Geography

Students must also seek advisement from the University Advisers for Pre-Health Studies. The B.A. major in pre-health studies with a concentration in the humanities or the social sciences prepares students for medical, dental, or veterinary school by requiring, within the context of a broad education in the liberal arts and sciences, the courses in the sciences and mathematics needed for admission to professional degree programs in the health sciences, as well as a concentration in one specific field within either the humanities or the social sciences. Students are required to seek advisement from pre-health advisers and from the chairperson of the department of the elected concentration.
Geography (Pre-Health Concentration)

The concentration in geography will introduce students to core concepts in geography and train students in critical thinking, help students develop important oral and written communication skills, and introduce students to important elements in understanding how the study of disease and health issues are rooted in geographical understandings of place, space and culture.

For the concentration in geography, 21 sh of course work:

1. The following three courses:
   - GEOG 001 - (BH) World Regional Geography  3 sh
   - GEOG 002 - (BH) Human Geography  3 sh
   - GEOG 060 - Introduction to Geographic Information Systems and Digital Maps  3 sh

2. Select two from:
   - GEOG 003 - (BH) Introduction to Geography  3 sh
   - GEOG 004 - (BH) Cultural Geography  3 sh
   - GEOG 005 - (BH) Population and Migration Geography  3 sh
   - GEOG 006 - (BH) Resources and Energy Geography  3 sh
   - GEOG 080 - (BH) Transport Geography  3 sh
   - GEOG 102 - (BH) Population, Resources and Environment  3 sh
   - GEOG 103 - (BH) Urban Geography  3 sh
   - GEOG 135 - (BH) Economic Geography  3 sh
   - GEOG 160 - Intermediate Geographic Information Systems  3 sh
   - GEOG 161 - Geographic Information Systems (GIS) for the Natural Sciences  3 sh
   - GEOG 193 - Seminar: Economic Geography  3 sh

3. Select two from:
   - GEOG 110 - (BH) Geography of the United States and Canada  3 sh
   - GEOG 113C - (CC) Geography of East and Southeast Asia  3 sh
   - GEOG 114 - (BH, CC) Geography of South Asia  3 sh
   - GEOG 122 - (BH) The Geography of Western Europe  3 sh
   - GEOG 131 - Japan  3 sh
   - GEOG 140 - (BH, CC) Geography of Latin America  3 sh
   - GEOG 141 - (BH, CC) Geography of the Caribbean  3 sh
   - GEOG 143 - (BH, CC) Geography of South America 3 sh
   - GEOG 145 - (BH, CC) Geography of Africa  3 sh
   - GEOG 148 - (BH) Geography of Australia and the South Pacific  3 sh

Global Studies (Pre-Health Concentration)

The concentration in global studies will allow students to explore the core concepts of “globalization” from an interdisciplinary perspective. The concentration will train students in critical thinking, help students develop important oral and written communication skills, and introduce students to important elements in understanding how globalization has impacted the spread of disease vectors and the ways in which societal health issues are fundamentally tied to a study of global economic, political, and cultural processes.

For the concentration in global studies, 21 sh of course work:

- GS 001, 002; GEOG 001;
- Select any two courses from the electives in global economics, politics and culture, as listed under the BA major in Global Studies.
- Select any two courses from the regional area studies electives as defined under the BA major in Global Studies.
