

The Latin American and Caribbean Studies Program, and the Romance Languages and Literatures Department at Hofstra University, cordially invite you to a presentation by

Mauricio Salazar,

Environmental and Sanitary Engineer.

Thursday, May 5th, 2011
12:45-2:10-Roosevelt 107

Of Bananas and Other Demons: Historical,
Social and Political
Perspectives on a
Colombian
Banana Plantation.

Born in Medellín (Colombia), Mauricio Salazar is a Sanitary Engineer with 20 years of experience as senior project manager and employee of the largest banana company in Colombia today.

At Uniban International Trading Company, he was responsible for the environmental issues related to the production, packaging and transportation of bananas for exportation.

