

The Center for Civic Engagement (CCE)'s Day of Dialogue 2011
Sponsored by the Latin American and Caribbean Studies department:
4:30 p.m.—5:55 p.m.
Wednesday, October 26, 2011
Building Development Center (BDC) 246

Latin American Democracy, Indigenous Resistance and Popular Mobilization

Across the Americas, mass, popular protests are challenging the political and economic order of the establishment. From Colombia to Peru, Mexico to Bolivia, the indigenous organizations are linking up with other popular sectors to challenge the status quo and build a new social order.

Dr. Gerardo Renique, Professor of History, City University of New York, and Prof. Mario A. Murillo, co-director, CCE, Hofstra University

Moderated by Christian Aguilar, M.A. in Spanish Candidate