Hofstra's Quidditch team is ranked #10th in the nation! Well done! Check it out. And check out how many HUHC'ers are on that team.

HUHC Student Ian Poulos had a full page editorial in Newsday this Sunday extolling the virtues of the Center for Civic Engagement's Deliberative Democracy project. Many HUHC students are involved including recent alumnae Etana Jacobi. Congratulations Ian!

Congratulations to HUHC's own Courtney Grimes and her acceptance to the competitive Amgen Scholars program at UC Berkeley for a ten week summer research experience.

HUHC student Steven Miller, who will be graduating this Spring as an Honors College Graduate with Distinction in Electrical Engineering, was just notified he is the recipient of the very prestigious National Science Fellowship to support graduate study! Congratulations Steve, now all you have to do is pick a graduate school!

HUHC congratulates Etana Jacobi, she was awarded the Arthur E. Newton Trustee Memorial Endowed Scholarship for earning the highest GPA in the Social Sciences.

Congratulations Rosemary Ortiona! Rosie is an HUHC student who just learned that she was awarded a New York State Bar Association's Minority Fellowship in Environmental Law. Pretty good for a 1L L.E.A.P. student who is simultaneously finishing her B.A. Kudo's Rosie!

Congratulations to HUHC students Ian Poulos, Candice Sands, and Katherine Pachnos who were selected by Hofstra's chapter of Phi Beta Kappa to be this year's Sophomore Book Award Winners. This prestigious award goes to the students whose ac...See More — with Warren Frisina.

Check out these blog posts from recent HUHC Grad Jarrett Piette who is currently volunteering his time at Montaña de Luz a Honduran orphanage for children who have or have been affected by HIV/AIDS. Jarret's been to Montaña de Luz several times before, but this is to be his longest stay. <http://jarrettonthemountain.blogspot.com/>.
