INTERNSHIPS

Internships are an opportunity for students to apply knowledge and skills learned in the classroom to the real-world business environment, while also building their professional network to obtain a competitive edge in the job market. Hofstra's proximity to New York City offers students the opportunity to gain experience in one of the world's largest business centers.

We assist our students in identifying internships at top-tier companies by leveraging our strong alumni network, our advisory board of top global business executives, and the professionals at Hofstra's Career Center and Graduate Business Career Services. In addition, an internship coordinator within the department supports students in finding these opportunities, and each student pursuing an internship is also assigned a faculty advisor who serves as a mentor throughout the experience.

Our students have interned at diverse organizations, including:

- 92.3 NOW FM
- American Ballet
- Atlantic Records/Warner Music Group
- CBS Radio
- Madison Square Garden
- Michael Kors
- New York Islanders
- NFL Players Association
- The Ritz-Carlton
- Smith Barney
- W.B. Mason
- World Wrestling Entertainment

Internships may be taken for course credit.

ACCREDITATIONS

Hofstra University's Frank G. Zarb School of Business has been accredited by AACSB International – The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business for more than 40 years. In addition, the accounting programs offered by the Department of Accounting, Taxation and Legal Studies in Business have earned a separate accounting accreditation from AACSB International. These accreditations ensure that Zarb faculty, academic programs and facilities meet the highest professional standards. Less than 10 percent of all business programs have dual accreditations in business and accounting.

WHY STUDY MANAGEMENT AND ENTREPRENEURSHIP?

Students in the Department of Management and Entrepreneurship learn how to manage people and functions in all types of organizations – from start-ups to multinational corporations – and receive a broad-based education in the theory and practice of human resources, operations, supply chains and leadership.

The Department of Management and Entrepreneurship provides students with:

- The opportunity to study with professors who are committed to teaching and research, and possess deep professional experience in their area of expertise.
- The chance to work with a team of student entrepreneurs to launch a new business venture. These projects are funded by Capital One, where bankers serve as mentors throughout the academic year.
- Active student clubs host speaker forums and panels and provide networking opportunities with successful alumni. These clubs also sponsor student teams for national competitions.
- Internships in a wide range of business environments.
- Access to licensed SAP enterprise software, the leading supply chain management software used by organizations worldwide, and the chance to become SAP certified before graduation.
