

The Royle-Sombrotto Locker Room was made possible through the generosity of James C. Metzger.

"As a player, Vinnie Sombrotto was not a big man with enormous strength or great speed. He also did not have what most would have considered a powerful or exceptionally accurate shot. However, he had an immeasurable impact on any lacrosse game in which he played. His will to win and the level of intensity he brought to every game were unmatched. Vinnie was truly a catalyst that made the players around him significantly better. He is undoubtedly the greatest lacrosse player with whom I ever played or competed against. While facing Vinnie as an opponent, you were not only up against his tremendous talent and physical skills, but you were also forced to compete against his finely tuned lacrosse mind. Whether as a teammate or a competitor, Vinnie was the smartest player with whom I ever had the pleasure to share a lacrosse field. In my eyes, Vinnie was the closest thing to a perfect player I have ever seen. He defined himself by winning while playing lacrosse – and now, retired from the game at age 49, he continues to feel the need to win just as his body needs air, water and food. This singular combination of skill, will, intensity and intelligence add up to the creation of Vinnie Sombrotto – an insuperable athlete."

"It was once said by the great Dodger manager Tommy Lasorda of Joe DiMaggio, 'He was to people all over the world what a baseball player was supposed to be like. If you said to God, 'Create someone who was what a baseball player should be,' God would have created Joe DiMaggio ... and he did.' If God was asked to create the perfect lacrosse midfielder, he would have created Vinnie Sombrotto ... and he did."

Dear Coach Royle,

I would like to demonstrate my support of Hofstra University and intend to assist Hofstra Lacrosse going forward. While I did not play my final two years of lacrosse at Hofstra and I clearly received more from the school than I ever gave, I believe that I contributed greatly to Hofstra during the two years that I did participate. I have taken many of the lessons I learned over those two years and applied them in both my business life and my everyday life.

Oftentimes, as with many high school and college athletes, the advice and assistance of people in authority isn't appreciated until time passes and we have the opportunity to reflect on wasted potential. While my appreciation for your efforts came long after my athletic career was over, I can tell you that the value of your efforts has been realized.

You may recall that I walked away from the game of lacrosse in the prime of my athletic career following my sophomore year. I vividly recall the day I came to your office to inform you that I would not continue as a member of the lacrosse team. In fact, I told you that I would not be matriculating at the University for the spring semester of my junior year.

Many years have passed since I made that decision, but its impact has been immeasurable for me on both personal and professional levels. With time and age came the desire to acknowledge your efforts. As a businessman who has built a successful business since that time, I would like to start right here right now by honoring my coach. I am donating the funds necessary to build the Men's Lacrosse Locker Room at Hofstra University in your name. I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your support during my freshman and sophomore years at Hofstra. This donation in your name is the most demonstrative way to acknowledge all you did for me and, frankly, how those actions significantly impacted both my life and my business career.

Thank you, Harry,

Sincerely,

James C. Metzger
