We are seeking the help of Volunteer Research Detectives.

If you would like to contribute to the understanding of Long Island's history, why not try your hand at transcribing these diary pages from the early 1900's.

The diary was written by a young woman from Long Island, NY, but her handwriting is very hard to read!

Please help us make these pages available to researchers.

Select any page to transcribe, but please refer to the page number when forwarding your complete work.

You do not need to start at any particular point, just pick the part of the document that you can decipher.

Send your transcriptions to lisi@hofstra.edu

Access the diary pages at: <https://www.hofstra.edu/pdf/library/libspc-1912-diary-transcribe1.pdf>
