Morgan, Bert, 1904-1986. Negatives, 1932-1985.
1.7 cubic ft.

Born in Windemere, England, in 1904, Bernard "Bert" S. Morgan moved to the United States in 1911 with his parents and siblings. In 1919, he became a syndicate newspaper photographer in New York, where he provided photographs to the New York Daily News and other Northeast newspapers. In 1930, he opened his own photography business and spent the next fifty-six years photographing celebrities, royalty, politicians and members of society at social and sporting events in places such as Long Island, Saratoga, Key West, Nassau and Newport. During the 1950s, he moved to Palm Beach, Florida, where he opened Bert and Richard Morgan Studios with his son Richard F. Morgan, Sr. (1936-2012), who learned the photography business from his father. The two worked together until the elder Morgan's death in 1986.

During his career, Bert Morgan rose to the top of his profession and became the dean of society photographers. He was friends with the Duke of Windsor and became the only photographer to ever call him "Eddie." He was also the only photographer to photograph a president (John F. Kennedy) and his first lady (Jacqueline Bouvier) from their childhoods. Pictured among the over two million photographs that he took were members of society's most famous families: the Vanderbilts, Whitneys, Guggenheims, Phipps, Mellons, DuPonts, Kents, Posts, Sanfords and Wanamakers. For decades, Morgan also worked as chief photographer for the New York Racing Association (NYRA), and it was said around the racetrack that he was more famous than the horses that were running.

The collection, which spans the years 1932-1985, includes negatives of photographs taken by Bert Morgan and his son Richard. These negatives, some of which are accompanied by proofs, vary in size and are mostly in black and white. The majority depict members of society at social events or sporting competitions—including polo matches, dog shows or field trials, and horse races or shows—on Long Island. A small number are from other locations, including Mt. Pocono, Pennsylvania, and Saratoga Springs and Tuckahoe, both in New York.

The collection also includes some negatives from action photos of horse races, polo matches and retriever field trials, as well as negatives that feature individual dogs and horses that participated in various competitions.

In addition, the collection contains a small number of racing programs from various runnings of the Belmont Stakes race, held annually at Belmont Park in Elmont, New York, as well as news clippings about the races.

Noteworthy among the negatives is an image, photographed in 1961, of Dwight and Mamie Eisenhower at the Belmont Stakes, where they were guests of honor. Also of interest are a small number of negatives depicting polo players in action, including two of American star G.H. "Pete" Bostwick playing in an international match against Anahuac Polo Club (Mexico City), at the Meadow Brook Polo Club in Westbury, New York, in 1958. Additionally noteworthy are a small number of negatives featuring images of Triple Crown winner Secretariat; his owner, Mrs. John Tweedy; New York governor Nelson A. Rockefeller; Virginia governor Linwood Holton; and, jockey Ron Turcotte, at the 1973 Belmont Stakes race.
