The Game: The Pride, winners of four straight and seven of its last eight games travels to Fairfax, Virginia to face George Mason this Sunday at 2 p.m.

Streaks, Trends and Notes:
- Hofstra has won four straight, seven of its last eight and nine of their last 12 games.
- Hofstra's 10 wins are already two more than they had all of last season and their most in a season since winning 11 in the 1999-2000 campaign.
- This is the Pride's second win streak of at least three games this season, the last time Hofstra had two win streaks of at least three games was in 1996-1997 (both four game streaks).
- Hofstra's four-game win streak is the program's longest since winning five straight from December 3 – December 29, 1999.
- The 7-1 start in CAA action is the team's best-ever in conference play as a Division I program.
- Hofstra has trailed in the second half in seven of its 10 victories this season (Towson, James Madison and Drexel they did not trail).
- Hofstra's true freshmen (Oakley, Murphy, Harshaw and Gidden) have a combined 18 double figure scoring games this season. When one or more of the freshman score in double figures the Pride's record is 8-2.
- With a 45-33 rebounding advantage over Drexel on January 29, Hofstra has now tied or out-rebounded their opponents in seven straight games.
- With her 19 points at William & Mary, junior forward Amaka Agugua went over the 500-point plateau for her career. She has now scored 531 points.
- Hofstra has won its first six home games this season. The six straight wins to start the home schedule is the longest in school history.
- The six-game home court winning streak ties the school record for longest such streak at any point during the season, the Pride won six straight home games spanning the 1982-1983 and 1983-1984 seasons as well.
- Hofstra's bench has outscored their opponents, 240-123, in its eight CAA games.
- Hofstra's seven conference victories is already three more than they won all last season and one more than their entire CAA win total from 2001-2002. In addition, it is their most conference wins since the 1996-1997 squad won eight America East games, which is the school record for conference wins in a season (Division I only).
- Hofstra has made a three-pointer in 147 of their last 149 games.
- Hofstra has won the tip in all but three games this season (North Carolina, Old Dominion and Drexel).
- The Pride is 19-3 in their last 22 games when they hold their opponent under 60 points (4-1 this season).
- Freshman Lana Harshaw posted her second straight double-double playing in place of injured junior Amaka Agugua. It is Hofstra’s first back-to-back double-doubles since Agugua achieved that feat against Canisius and Columbia.
- Senior guard Staceyann Claxton has 24 steals in her last five games (4.8 steals per game).
- Junior forward Amaka Agugua is shooting a blistering 80.1 % (21-26) from the field in her last four games.

A Win For Hofstra Today Would:
- Be the 19th in the head coaching career of Head Coach Felisha Legette-Jack.
- Be Hofstra’s first-ever road victory over George Mason.
- Be Hofstra’s fifth straight and eighth in its last nine games.
- Tie the school record for most conference wins in a single season, set by the 1996-1997 squad (eight conf. wins).
- Make the Pride four games over .500 for the first time since the 1982-1983 team was 12-6 after 18 games.
- Push Hofstra’s record to 11-7 overall and 8-1 in the Colonial Athletic Association.
Coach Legette-Jack: In her first campaign as Head Coach, Legette-Jack guided the Pride to an 8-2 record. She coached the squad to a 24-121 record in the Colonial Athletic Association Championship, which was the first tournament win in five years, and saw her star player Jen Bricker earn second team all-conference and first team All-Metropolitan New York accolades. Bricker and Lauren Hall-Gregory were also named to the CAA All-Academic team. This past summer, Legette-Jack represented the United States as an assistant coach for Team USA at the 2003 FIBA World Championship for Young Women in Sibenik, Croatia, and helped coach the team to a gold medal. "I am thrilled and excited about the upcoming season," Legette-Jack stated. "Our goal this season remains to pursue championships on and off the court. Our President and Administration have done a wonderful job of supporting our program and we are working together to take Pride Women's Basketball to the next level. We will work hard to generate excitement for women's basketball by playing with purpose, passion and pride, and look forward to becoming an integral part of the Long Island community. I feel continually blessed to have been given the opportunity to coach here at Hofstra University." Legette-Jack brought a wealth of collegiate coaching experience to Hofstra. She spent 11 seasons as a Division I assistant coach, with nine years in the Big East Conference at Syracuse University and Boston College, and two seasons in the Big Ten Conference at Michigan State University. Legette-Jack came to Hofstra after serving for two seasons as an assistant coach at Michigan State University in East Lansing, Michigan. In 2000-2001, the Spartans, coached by former University of Maine Women's Basketball Coach Joanne P. McCallie, went 10-18. But Michigan State followed that up with one of the top turnarounds in the NCAA in 2001-2002, going 19-13 and advancing to the Women's National Invitational Tournament (WNIT) semifinals. It was the fifth most wins in school history and included three victories over nationally ranked programs. While at Michigan State, Legette-Jack served as the recruiting coordinator and was responsible for signing the 14th-ranked recruiting class in the country for the 2001-2002 season. Three of those recruits were residents of the state of Michigan and were ranked in the top 61 in the nation. In addition, Legette-Jack supervised the student-athletes' academic progress, and helped organize and direct Michigan State's preseason and postseason conditioning program. Prior to her two seasons at Michigan State, Legette-Jack spent seven seasons as an assistant coach at her alma mater, Syracuse University. Legette-Jack was the recruiting coordinator at Syracuse and helped bring in two Gatorade Players of the Year. She was also in charge of organizing all team travel arrangements and coordinating the tape exchange program, while also taking care of the Orangewomen's conditioning schedule. During her tenure at Syracuse, her squads maintained a 100-percent graduation rate. Following graduation, Legette-Jack was the head girl's basketball coach at Westhill High School in Syracuse, New York. She compiled a 26-13 record in two seasons there and had five players earn scholarships to Division I basketball programs. She then spent two years as an assistant coach at Boston College, where she oversaw the academic progress of a team with a 100-percent graduation rate, before moving on to Syracuse. The all-time leading scorer and rebounder in Syracuse history, Legette-Jack is a 1989 graduate with a dual major in child and family studies, and psychology. Legette-Jack scored 1,526 points and pulled down 927 rebounds during her career as an Orangewoman. Legette-Jack was a three-time All-Big East selection, earned Kodak All-American honorable mention accolades twice and was named the 1985 Big East Conference Rookie of the Year. She has also been named to three different Halls of Fame: Greater Syracuse Hall of Fame, Syracuse Urban League Hall of Fame and the Syracuse University Orange Plus Hall of Fame. Legette-Jack and her husband, David, have one son, David Maceo (4) and reside in East Meadow, New York.

Bench Production: Hofstra’s bench has really stepped up once conference play began. In the Pride’s eight Colonial Athletic Association games, Hofstra’s bench has outscored its opponents, 240-123. Here is a game-by-game look at how the bench has performed in CAA games, including the high scorer off the bench:

Hofstra vs. Virginia Commonwealth (1/4/04)
Won 75-70 – Hofstra Bench 29, VCU Bench 4
Lana Harshaw – 12 points

Hofstra vs. UNC Wilmington (1/9/04)

Shalamar Oakley – 13 points

The Future’s so Bright, I Gotta Wear Shades:
Hofstra’s group of four true freshmen and one red-shirt freshman have certainly made an impact this season in leading the Pride to a 10-7 overall record and a 7-1 CAA mark. Here is a look at how much these “young guns” have contributed to Hofstra’s fast start:

Minutes Played
Have accounted for 1542 out of 3425 (45.0 %)

Points Scored
Have accounted for 526 out of 1055 (49.8 %)

Rebounds
Have accounted for 296 out of 683 (43.3 %)

Assists
Have accounted for 85 out of 231 (36.7 %)

The Future’s so Bright, Part Deux: Hofstra’s freshmen have had their share of strong games this season. To see what they have meant to the success of the Pride this season, take a look at how often they have led or been tied for the team-lead in certain categories.

Scoring
A true or red-shirt freshman has led or been tied for the team-lead in scoring eight times this season.

Rebounding
A true or red-shirt freshman has led or been tied for the team-lead in rebounding 11 times this season.

Assists
A true or red-shirt freshman has led or been tied for the team-lead in assists seven times this season.

Steals
A true or red-shirt freshman has led or been tied for the team-lead in steals 12 times this season.

Blocked Shots
A true or red-shirt freshman has led or been tied for the team-lead in blocked shots nine times this season.

Last Night I Messed Around And (Nearly) Got A Triple-Double:
With her six points, 10 assists and 14 rebounds vs. Canisius on November 30 at the Binghamton Time Warner Classic, Hofstra senior guard Staceyann Claxton nearly became the first player in Hofstra Women’s Basketball history to tally a triple-double.

Nice To See You Again:
Red-shirt freshman guard Cigi McCollin has returned to the Pride lineup after missing all but the first five games of the 2002-2003 season and has not missed a beat. McCollin, who is averaging a team fifth-best 7.3 points and 2.5 rebounds per game, led the Pride in scoring in the first two games of the season. McCollin was second on the team with 13 points, including nine in the first half, in Hofstra’s road win at Towson. She followed that up with a team-high 15 points in Hofstra’s win at James Madison.

Nice Start Coach: With a victory in her first game as head coach (an 88-62 win over St. Francis (NY)), Felisha Legette-Jack became the first Hofstra Women’s Basketball Head Coach to win their first game as coach since Lorraine Hoffman defeated Long Island University, 67-45, to begin her Hofstra Head Coaching career at the start of the 1987-1988 season.

First Half Heroics: Senior guard Urszula Smolarek and freshman forward Lizanne Murphy each had a strong opening half as Hofstra built a four-point advantage, 31-27, against Princeton on December 13. Smolarek tallied all nine of her points, on 3-5 from beyond the arc, while Murphy had eight points, seven rebounds and three assists in the first twenty minutes of the game. The scoring total for each would be their final point total as Hofstra went on to defeat the Tigers, 55-49.

We’re Having a Block Party: Senior center Rume Pela, who posted a team-high 43 blocks in 2002-2003, has 98 blocks in her three-plus seasons at Hofstra. Her 98 blocks are currently tied for fourth all-time at Hofstra. The 43 blocks last season were tied for the third most in a single season in Hofstra Basketball history. Pela ranks second on the Pride in blocks this season with seven.

Comeback Kids: In Hofstra’s first seven victories this season, the Pride had to overcome second half deficits in order to pick up the victory. In two of the games Hofstra trailed by at least nine points in the second half and in another they were behind with less than three minutes to play.

Against Quinnipiac: Trailed 55-46 with 7:46 left before closing the game on a 19-7 run. Won 65-62
Against Rhode Island: Trailed 39-29 with 17:50 left before a 22-11 run gave the Pride the lead. Won 66-61
Against Princeton: Trailed 49-48 with 2:28 remaining before scoring the final seven points of the game. Won 55-49
Against Virginia Commonwealth: Trailed 37-36 at half until a three-pointer 19 seconds into the second half gave the Pride the lead for good. Won 75-70
Against UNC Wilmington: Trailed 36-33 with 17:36 remaining before a 7-0 spurt erased the deficit. Hofstra never trailed again in pulling away for the double-digit victory. Won 79-68
Against William & Mary: Trailed 37-33 at half before opening the second half on a 12-3 run. William & Mary would tie the game at 49 before the Pride added an 11-4 run to give them the lead for good. Won 76-67
Against Old Dominion: Trailed 41-36 at halftime before beginning the second half on a 14-0 run to take a 50-41 lead with 16:07 remaining. The Pride would never trail again in posting arguably their greatest victory ever. Won 74-72

Pride after 17 Games: The 10-7 mark after 17 games this season is Hofstra’s second-best record after 17 games since the program became Division I in 1982-1983.

BEST MARK AFTER 17 GAMES
1. 1982-1983 (12-5)
T-2. 2003-2004 (10-7)
T-2. 1999-2000 (10-7)
T-2. 1993-1994 (10-7)

Steppin’ Up: Freshman forward Lana Harshaw has certainly made the most of her opportunity in place of injured junior forward Amaka Agugua. Harshaw, who got the first start of her career at James Madison, has contributed double-doubles in each of her two starts at JMU and home vs. Drexel. She had 11 points and 10 rebounds vs. the Dukes and followed that up with 11 points and a career-high 11 rebounds vs. the Dragons.

Happy New Year: With a 7-1 record in January, Hofstra had its first winning month since going 2-1 in November of 2002. The last time Hofstra won at least six games in a month was December of 1993 when they earned a 6-1 mark.

Cleaning the Glass: Hofstra has out-rebounded its opponent in six of its last seven games. The lone time they didn’t out-rebound their opponent was against Old Dominion when each team pulled down 35 rebounds. Three times during that stretch the Pride out-rebounded its opponent by 12. In CAA games only, Hofstra has a +5.4 rebounding margin.
De-Fense: The 37 points scored by James Madison in Hofstra's 48-37 win on January 25 was the fewest points scored by a Hofstra opponent since St. John’s mustered 34 in a 61-34 loss to the Pride on November 23, 2001.

Offense?: The 48 points scored by Hofstra in their 48-37 victory over James Madison was the fewest points the Pride has scored in a win since defeating Army, 48-46, in the 15th game of Hofstra's inaugural season of Division I basketball in 1982-1983. To put that in perspective, here are some numbers to digest:
- It has been more than 21 years since Hofstra scored that few of points and won a game.
- Hofstra has played 589 games in that span and has won 209 games and has scored at least 49 points in all of them.

Hometown Flavor: Hofstra has seven players on their roster from the New York tri-state area, including three of the freshmen. The players from the Empire State are: senior Staceyann Claxton (Hempstead, NY) and red-shirt freshman Cigi McCollin (Long Island City, NY). Hailing from the Garden State is: senior Tara Dilworth (Sparta, NJ), senior Rume Pela (Cherry Hill, NJ), freshman Shalamar Oakley (Camden, NJ) and freshman Lana Harshaw (Wildwood, NJ). Freshman Vanessa Gidden is from the Constitution State (Stamford, CT).

They Aren’t Freshmen Anymore: Hofstra’s freshman had quite an outing against Old Dominion as they accounted for the Pride’s final 24 points of the game and 28 of Hofstra’s 38 second half points.

Controlling the Boards: In the Pride’s 48-37 victory over James Madison on January 25, Hofstra out-rebounded the Dukes, 56-44. It was the most rebounds Hofstra has had in a game since pulling down 59 in a 61-34 win over St. John’s on November 23, 2001.

Long Time Coming: The double-double (16 points, 10 rebounds) by freshman forward Lizanne Murphy against UNC Wilmington on January 9 was Hofstra’s first home double-double since then-sophomore forward Amaka Agugua had 19 points and 14 rebounds against William & Mary on February 8, 2003.

Shooting Star: Junior forward Amaka Agugua, who set the single season field goal percentage record at 53.8% last season, has not missed a beat in 2003-2004. Overall this season, Agugua is shooting at a blistering 80.7% (21-26) from the field.

Smooth Sailing: The 18-point margin of victory (69-51) at Towson on January 22 was the Pride largest margin of victory since defeating Fairfield by 19 points (89-70) on November 30, 2002.

Welcome Back: The Pride welcomed back two players this season which sat out all or nearly all of the 2002-2003 season. Senior Tara Dilworth missed the entire 2002-2003 season with a wrist injury, while red-shirt freshman Cigi McCollin missed all but the first five games of the season after suffering a knee injury against Stetson on December 6. Dilworth, who averaged 5.7 points and team-highs of 5.2 rebounds and 1.1 blocks per game in 2001-2002, attended the Pete Newell Big Man Camp this past summer. McCollin, on the other hand, won the first two Colonial Athletic Association Rookie of the Week honors before suffering her season-ending injury.

A Game of Firsts: The Virginia Commonwealth victory on January 4 was Hofstra’s first win in their conference opener since joining the CAA prior to the 2001-2002 season and also their first win in their conference opener since defeating Hartford, 51-46, to begin America East play in 1998-1999.

Sweet Shooting: The Pride shot 55.2% from the field against Rhode Island on December 9, marking the first time since shooting 57.4% in an 89-70 win over Fairfield on November 30, 2002 that Hofstra has shot over 50% from the field in a victory.

More on Rhode Island: The win over Rhode Island on December 9 was Hofstra’s first over an Atlantic 10 opponent since knocking off Fordham, 61-52, on December 29, 1999.

Rebounding Machine: Hofstra out-rebounded Rhode Island 32-22 in their 66-61 win over the Rams on December 9. It marked the fewest rebounds for a Hofstra opponent since St. Francis (NY) also pulled down 22 on December 11, 1999 in an 82-68 Pride victory.

Stop, Thief: Senior guard Staceyann Claxton, who currently leads the Pride in steals with 42, has 24 steals in Hofstra’s last five games (4.8 spg). She tied her career-high with seven steals in Hofstra’s victory over Old Dominion on January 18. Claxton’s career steals total of 153 is nearing the top ten all-time at Hofstra as Mary Henwood (1982-1986) holds the tenth spot in career steals with 168.

Nice Job, Newcomers: Of the eight players on the Pride roster who were not active at the end of last season (four freshmen, two transfers, two red-shirts), seven saw action in Hofstra’s season opener against #14 North Carolina on November 23. The non-returnees totaled 30 of Hofstra’s 45 points (67%) and 31 of the Pride’s 41 rebounds (76%).
No Overtime, Please: It has been 20 long years since a Hofstra Women's Basketball team won a game in overtime. The Pride, who has played six overtime games since their last extra session victory, last lost an overtime game on November 30 when they were defeated by Canisius, 78-74, at the Binghamton Time Warner Classic. In 1983-84 the Pride defeated Marist College, 61-60, for their last overtime win.

Pouring It On: The 48 points scored in the second half against UNC Wilmington on January 9 was Hofstra’s highest scoring half since dropping 50 points in the second half in an 87-81 overtime loss to Virginia Commonwealth last February 8, 2003.

Ranked Team: The game against the Tar Heels on November 23rd marked Hofstra’s first against a ranked opponent since February 22, 2002 when the Pride dropped a 90-57 decision to #18 Old Dominion. The #14 Tar Heels were also the highest ranked team that Hofstra has ever faced.

Smolarek Shines: Senior guard Urszula Smolarek came up huge in Hofstra’s 66-61 victory over Rhode Island on December 9 as she tallied nine points, eight assists and four steals. The assists and steals total were career-highs for Smolarek, who was a perfect 6-6 from the free throw line in the final 1:34 of the contest.

No More Road Woes: The 66-61 win over Rhode Island on December 9 ended a 15-game road losing skid for the Pride. Hofstra’s last road victory prior to the URI win came on December 6, 2002 when they defeated Stetson, 71-63.

Double Your Fun: Hofstra finished the 2002-2003 campaign with 9 double-doubles. All the double-doubles last season were of the point/rebound variety. Here is a list of double-doubles by Hofstra players during the 2003-2004 season...

Amaka Agugua
27 points, 12 rebounds vs. Canisius
20 points, 13 rebounds at Columbia

Staceyann Claxton
10 assists, 14 rebounds vs. Canisius

Lizanne Murphy
16 points, 10 rebounds vs. UNC Wilmington

Lana Harshaw
11 points, 10 rebounds at James Madison
11 points, 11 rebounds vs. Drexel

2002-2003 “DOUBLE-DOUBLES”
Amaka Agugua – Six “Double-Doubles” – 2nd in the CAA
Rume Pela- Two “Double-Doubles”
Jen Brickey – One “Double-Double”

New Look, Same Goal: Although the Pride returned only five letterwinners from a season ago, the goal of pursuing championships remains the same. Hofstra has added four talented freshman and one junior college transfer. In addition, Hofstra returns two players (Dilworth and McCollin) who red-shirted during the 2002-2003 season. If you are counting at home, that means that the 2003-2004 Pride roster includes eight players who were not on the active roster at the end of the 2002-2003 season.

McSpadden to Join Pride in 04-05: Hofstra University Head Women’s Basketball Coach Felisha Legette-Jack announced on November 25 the signing of Jenna McSpadden, a 5-11 guard from Austin, Texas, to a National Letter of Intent to play for the Pride beginning in the 2004-2005 academic year. “We are absolutely thrilled that Jenna has decided to join our Hofstra Women’s Basketball Team,” stated Legette-Jack. “She will help us tremendously with her ability to shoot the outside shot. Her attention to her academics and athletics will help our team continue its journey of pursuing championships on and off the court. We welcome Jenna wholeheartedly to our Pride family.”

McSpadden averaged 17.8 points per game as a junior at Hyde Park Baptist High School in Austin, Texas. McSpadden played for Coach Vickie Benson at Hyde Park and was a first team all-state and all-district selection as a junior, McSpadden nailed 96 three-pointers, while playing 26 minutes a game. In addition, she was named the three-point field goal champion for private schools by the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches (TABC). An all-tournament selection in the state championships last year, McSpadden has also been named all-district in softball and volleyball and all-state in volleyball.

Take A Kid To The Game: Area youngsters will have an opportunity to experience the college game-day atmosphere when Hofstra University hosts NCAA® Basketball’s annual Take a Kid to the Game® (TAKG) program, February 15, 2003 at 2 p.m. Kids, ages 14 and younger, will receive a free ticket with the purchase of a full-priced adult ticket ($6), to watch the Pride take on the University of Delaware at Hofstra University Arena. Hofstra University is one of more than 500 institutions across the nation that are participating in this campaign focused on attracting more of the nation’s youth to college games. The Take a Kid to the Game® program is entering its ninth year in the promotion of NCAA® Athletics. "We are very excited to be participating in the NCAA Take a Kid to the Game initiative," said Harry Royle, Hofstra University Director of Athletics. "Our wish is that all of the young players in our immediate area will have the opportunity to experience the one-of-a-kind atmosphere that is women’s NCAA Basketball.” Tickets for this special game, which become available the week-of-the-game, can be purchased at the Hofstra Arena Box Office. For more information, contact the Hofstra Arena Box Office at (516) 463-6633, extension 1.

Scott Leaves Team: Hofstra University Head Women’s Basketball Coach Felisha Legette-Jack announced on December 8 that junior forward Megan Scott (Oak Hill, VA/Oakton) has left the team for personal reasons. “We wish Megan the best of luck in her future endeavors,” stated Legette-Jack. Scott started four of Hofstra’s first five games this season, averaging 5.8 points and 3.3 rebounds per game. She appeared in 58 games in her Pride career, scoring 317 points and grabbing 230 rebounds. She tallied her career-high of 17 points against William & Mary on February 8 of last season, and had 11 rebounds vs. Morehead State in December of 2002.

Burke Departs: Hofstra University Head Women’s Basketball Coach Felisha Legette-Jack announced on January 2 that sophomore guard Darby Burke (Baltimore, MD/Riverdale Baptist/Canisius) has left the team for personal reasons. Burke appeared in five games this season, averaging 4.2 minutes per contest. She had a total of three rebounds and one assist in those games.

GAME ONE AT NORTH CAROLINA
A 29-9 run to end the first half and a 27-0 run to start the second half doomed the Pride in their season opener with the Tar Heels. Cigi McCollin scored a team-high 16 points in her first game back since missing the majority of last season following major knee surgery. The 14th ranked Tar Heels are the highest ranked team that Hofstra has ever faced and it was the Pride 10th all-time meeting with a team from the Atlantic Coast Conference.

GAME TWO VS. QUINNIPAC
Red-shirt freshman guard Cigi McCollin scored a team-high 14 points and nailed three free throws in the final 14 seconds as Hofstra University rallied from a nine-point deficit with 7:46 left to defeat Quinnipiac University, 65-62, in the home opener for the Pride.

GAME THREE AT BINGHAMTON
Jen Blues and Kate Townley each scored a game-high 15 points, and Binghamton outscored Hofstra, 44-25, in the second half enroute to a 64-44 victory over Hofstra in the opening round of the Binghamton Time Warner Classic. Hofstra was led by Amaka Agugua’s eight points and nine rebounds.

GAME FOUR VS. CANISIUS
Despite a career-high 27 points from Amaka Agugua and career-highs of 10 assists and 14 rebounds from Staceyann Claxton, Hofstra dropped the consolation game of the Binghamton Time Warner Classic to Canisius in overtime, 78-74. The Golden Griff scored the first five points of overtime and never looked back.

GAME FIVE AT COLUMBIA
Columbia jumped out to a 10-0 lead to start the game and never looked as they posted a 76-62 victory over Hofstra on December 4. Amaka Agugua had her second straight strong game as she tallied 20 points and a game-high 13 rebounds. Cigi McCollin and Staceyann Claxton were also in double figures with 15 and 11, respectively.

GAME SIX AT RHODE ISLAND: The Rams scored the first eight points of the second half to open up a 39-29 advantage with 17:50 remaining in the game before the Pride responded with a 22-11 run to take the lead for good. Amaka Agugua tallied game-highs of 23 points and seven rebounds in the win, while Urszula Smolarek added nine points (including 6-6 from the free throw line in the final 1:35), eight assists and four steals. It marked the third straight game that Agugua has tallied 20 or more points.
Game Seven vs. Princeton: Amaka Agugua scored a team-high 14 points and Hofstra outscored Princeton, 70-0, over the final 2:28 of the game as the Pride earned their second consecutive victory with a 55-49 decision over the Tigers. Lana Harshaw added 12 points and six rebounds in the win, while Lizzanne Murphy chipped in with eight points, eight rebounds and six assists. The rebounding and assists total for Murphy were game-highs.

Game Eight vs. Pepperdine: Lizzanne Murphy tallied a game-high 13 points and added eight rebounds and four steals in 40 minutes of action, but 23 turnovers and 7-18 (38.9) shooting from the free throw line did the Pride in as they dropped a heartbreaking 52-50 decision to the Waves in the opening round of the FIU Sun & Fun Herald Classic in Miami, Florida. Vanessa Gidden pulled down a game-high 11 rebounds in the game and Staceyann Claxton had nine points.

Game Nine at Florida International: Florida International began the game on a 14-0 run and never looked back in cruising to an 80-56 win over Hofstra in the consolation game of the FIU Sun & Fun Herald Classic in Miami, Florida. Hofstra would close the gap to ten in the second half, 61-51, but the Golden Panthers closed the game on a 19-5 run to earn the victory. Hofstra got 12 points a piece from Staceyann Claxton and Shalamar Oakley. Claxton was named to the all-tournament team following the game.

Game 10 vs. Virginia Commonwealth: Hofstra opened the second half on a 14-5 to lead 50-42 and never looked back in earning a 75-70 victory over the Rams. The Pride withstood a late VCU rally that saw them cut a 13-point deficit with 55 seconds left to five in the span of 36 seconds. It was Hofstra’s first conference opening win since defeating Hartford, 51-46, to open America East play in 1998-1999. Hofstra was led by Staceyann Claxton’s 16 points and Amaka Agugua’s 15 points and nine rebounds.

Game 11 vs. UNC Wilmington: A 15-4 run early in the second half gave Hofstra a 48-40 lead and the Pride would never trail again in earning a 79-68 victory over UNC Wilmington. The Pride was led by freshman guard Shalamar Oakley, who poured in a game-high 21 points in 20 minutes of action. Freshman forward Lizzanne Murphy added the first double-double of her career with 16 points and 10 rebounds.

Game 12 at William & Mary: Hofstra Trailied 37-33 at half before opening the second half on a 12-3 run. William & Mary would tie the game at 49 before the Pride added an 11-4 run to give them the lead for good and they earned a 76-67 victory over the Tribe. Junior forward Amaka Agugua poured in a game-high 19 points, including 15 in the second half to pace the Pride. Three freshmen joined Agugua in double figures as forward Lana Harshaw had 12, while guard Shalamar Oakley and center Vanessa Gidden each chipped in with 10.

Game 13 at Delaware: The Fightin’ Blue Hens began the game on a 20-6 run and held Hofstra without a field goal for the first 7:52 of the game as they cruised to a 78-47 victory over the Pride. Junior forward Amaka Agugua was the lone member of the Pride in double figures with 10 points, while freshman center Vanessa Gidden had a strong game with eight points and 13 rebounds.

Game 14 vs. Old Dominion: Freshman forward Lizzanne Murphy led five players, including three freshmen, in double figures with 17 points as Hofstra posted a come-from-behind 74-72 stunning victory over the 12-time defending CAA champions Old Dominion. Murphy added a team-high six rebounds as the Pride scored the first 14 points of the second half to take control of the game. Hofstra’s freshmen accounted for the Pride’s final 24 points and scored 28 of Hofstra’s 38 second half points.

Game 15 at Towson: Hofstra used a 17-6 run to end the first half to take a 35-20 lead into the break and were never seriously challenged again in pulling away for a 69-51 victory over Towson. Hofstra was led by senior guard Staceyann Claxton with 14 points and six steals, while red-shirt freshman guard Cigi McCollin added 13 points and four rebounds.

Game 16 at James Madison: A 16-3 run midway through the second proved to be the difference as Hofstra pulled away for a 48-37 victory over James Madison. The Pride held the Dukes to 9% shooting in the first half and 19% for the game in holding JMU to the lowest scoring total for a Hofstra opponent since St. John’s scored 34 in a 61-34 loss to the Pride on November 23, 2001. Red-shirt freshman guard Cigi McCollin came off the bench to lead the Pride with 15, while freshman forward Lana Harshaw got the first start of her young career and responded with 11 points and 10 rebounds.

Last Game Recap: Freshman guard Shalamar Oakley (Camden, NJ) led three freshmen in double figures with 13 points as Hofstra rolled to their fourth straight win, 70-57, over Drexel in Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) basketball action on Thursday evening at Hofstra Arena. Joining Oakley in double figures was freshman forward Lana Harshaw (Wildwood, NJ) and freshman center Vanessa Gidden (Stamford, CT) with 11 and 10 points, respectively. Harshaw, who has started Hofstra’s last two games in place of injured junior forward Amaka Agugua (Herndon, VA), posted her second straight double-double as she had a career-high 11 rebounds to go along with her 11 points. The win, which was Hofstra’s fourth straight and seventh in its last eight games, improves their record to 10-7 overall and 7-1 in the CAA. In addition, the win was the Pride’s sixth straight at home, tying the school record for longest home court winning streak. Hofstra previously won six straight home games spanning the 1982-1983 and the 1983-1984 seasons. Drexel, meanwhile, drops its second straight game and slips to 7-10 and 4-4 in conference play. With the Pride trailing 18-16 midway through the first half, a three-pointer from senior guard Urszula Smolarek (Gorzow, Poland) gave Hofstra a one-point lead and sparked a 10-0 run that concluded with a layup from Gidden. A basket from Drexel junior forward Katrina Martin (Bowie, MD) ended the Hofstra run with 3:40 left in the half, but the Pride immediately answered a 6-0 run to push the advantage to 12, at 32-20. The two teams would trade baskets the remainder of the half, with Gidden giving Hofstra a 12-point halftime lead with a layup with seven seconds left before the break.

Hofstra was never seriously challenged in the second half as they opened up as much as a 21-point advantage on several occasions, including the final time with 4:35 remaining in the contest and the Pride leading 65-44. A game-ending 10-4 run for the Dragons closed the gap to 13, the closest it had been since Hofstra led 41-28 with 17:36 left in the second half. Freshman forward Lizanne Murphy (Beaconfield, Quebec, Canada) nearly joined her classmates in double figures as she had nine points and seven rebounds, while senior guard Staceyann Claxton (Hempstead, NY) had a solid all-around game with eight points, seven rebounds and a game-high six assists. Sophomore guard Catherine Scanlon (Drexel Hill, PA) was the lone Dragon in double figures as she tallied 10 points and added five rebounds. Sophomore guard Jackie Falson (Carol Stream, IL) added six points and a team-high seven rebounds.
