* - Denotes Colonial Athletic Association game
The Game: It’s CAA Tournament time as the Hofstra Pride enters the 2004 Colonial Athletic Association Championship as the number three seed and will open in the quarterfinals against sixth-seeded Virginia Commonwealth. This marks the first time since the 1996-1997 season that Hofstra earned a first round bye in its conference tournament.

Streaks, Trends and Notes:
- Hofstra has lost two of its last three games, with both losses by four points or less.
- Hofstra’s 14 wins are already six more than they had all of last season and their most in a season since winning 14 in the 1993-1994 campaign.
- The last time a Hofstra Women’s Basketball team had more than 14 victories in a season was in 1983-1984 when the team had an overall mark of 18-11.
- With the 76-57 victory over James Madison on February 29, the Pride clinched its first winning regular season since 1993-1994 and only the fourth-ever for Hofstra as a Division I program.
- The Pride has two win streaks at least three games this season, the last time Hofstra had two win streaks of at least three games was in 1996-1997 (both four game streaks).
- Hofstra’s 11 Colonial Athletic Association victories are a school record for conference victories in a season and three more than Hofstra has had in any previous conference schedule. The 1982-1983 (East Coast Conference) and 1996-1997 (America East Conference) teams each won eight conference games.
- Hofstra has trailed in the second half in eight of its 14 victories this season (@ Towson, @ James Madison, Drexel, William & Mary, @ Drexel and James Madison they did not trail).
- Hofstra’s freshmen (Oakley, McCollin, Murphy, Harshaw and Gidden) have a combined 39 double figure scoring games this season. When one or more of the freshmen score in double figures the Pride’s record is 13-9.
- Hofstra has only been out-rebounded three times in its last 16 games (@ Old Dominion, @ Virginia Commonwealth and George Mason).
- With her 19 points at William & Mary on January 11, junior forward Amaka Agugua went over the 500-point plateau for her career. She has now scored 645 points in her two-plus seasons at Hofstra.
- Hofstra has made a three-pointer in 157 of their last 159 games. The nine three-pointers made against James Madison on February 29 tied a season-high 11 rebounds at Virginia Commonwealth on February 20.
- Senior guard Staceyann Claxton has 46 steals in Hofstra’s last 15 games (3.1 steals per game).
- Junior forward Amaka Agugua is shooting a blistering 64.8% (61-94) from the field in her last 11 games.
- The 43 first half points against James Madison on February 29 were a season-high for a first half.

Coach Legette-Jack: In her first campaign as Head Coach, Legette-Jack guided the Pride to an 8-21 record. She coached the squad to a first round win in the Colonial Athletic Association Championship, which was the first tournament win in five years, and saw her star player Jen Brickey earn second team all-conference and first team All-Metropolitan New York accolades. Brickey and Lauren Hall-Gregory were also named to the CAA All-Academic team. This past summer, Legette-Jack represented the United States as an assistant coach for Team USA at the 2003 FIBA World Championship for Young Women in Sibenik, Croatia, and helped coach the team to a gold medal. "I am thrilled and excited about the upcoming season," Legette-Jack stated. "Our goal this season remains to pursue championships on and off the court. Our President and Administration have done a wonderful job of supporting our program and we are working together to take Pride Women’s Basketball to the next level. We will work hard to generate excitement for women's basketball by playing with purpose, passion and pride, and look forward to becoming an integral part of the Long Island community. I feel continually blessed to have been given the opportunity to coach here at Hofstra University." Legette-Jack brought a wealth of collegiate coaching experience to Hofstra. She spent 11 seasons as a Division I assistant coach, with nine years in the Big East Conference at Syracuse University and Boston College, and two seasons in the Big Ten Conference at Michigan State University. Legette-Jack came to Hofstra after serving for two seasons as an assistant coach at Michigan State University in East Lansing, Michigan. In 2000-2001, the Spartans, coached by former University of Maine Women’s Basketball Michigan State University in East Lansing, Michigan. In 2000-2001, the experience to Hofstra. She spent 11 seasons as a Division I assistant coach, with nine years in the Big East Conference at Syracuse University and Boston College, and two seasons in the Big Ten Conference at Michigan State University. Legette-Jack came to Hofstra after serving for two seasons as an assistant coach at Michigan State University in East Lansing, Michigan. In 2000-2001, the Spartans, coached by former University of Maine Women's Basketball Coach Joanne P. McCallie, went 10-18. But Michigan State followed that up with one of the top turnarounds in the NCAA in 2001-2002, going 19-13 and advancing to the Women's National Invitational Tournament (WNIT) semifinals. It was the fifth most wins in school history and included three victories over nationally ranked programs. While at Michigan State, Legette-Jack served as the recruiting coordinator and was responsible for signing the 14th-ranked recruiting class in the country for the 2001-2002 season. Three of those recruits were residents of the state of Michigan and were ranked in the top 61 class in the country for the 2001-2002 season. Three of those recruits were residents of the state of Michigan and were ranked in the top 61 in the nation. In addition, Legette-Jack supervised the student-athletes’ academic progress, and helped organize and direct Michigan State’s preseason and postseason conditioning program. Prior to her two seasons at Michigan State, Legette-Jack spent seven seasons as an assistant coach at her alma mater, Syracuse University, Legette-Jack was the recruiting coordinator at Syracuse and helped bring in two Gatorade Players of the Year. She was also in charge of organizing all team travel arrangements and coordinating the tape exchange program, while also taking care of the Orange women’s conditioning schedule. During her tenure at Syracuse, her squads maintained a 100-percent graduation rate. Following graduation, Legette-Jack was the head girl’s basketball coach at Westhill High School in Syracuse, New York. She compiled a 26-13 record in two seasons there and had five players earn scholarships to Division I basketball programs. She then spent two years as an assistant coach at Boston College, where she oversaw the academic progress of a team with a 100-percent graduation rate, before moving on to Syracuse. The all-time leading rebounder and second all-time leading scorer in Syracuse history, Legette-Jack is a 1989 graduate with a dual major in child and family studies, and psychology. Legette-Jack scored 1,526 points and pulled down 927 rebounds during her career as an Orangewoman. Legette-Jack was a three-time All-Big East selection, earned Kodak All-American honorable mention accolades twice and was named the 1985 Big East Conference Rookie of the Year. She has also been named to three different Halls of Fame: Greater Syracuse Hall of Fame, Syracuse Urban League Hall of Fame and the Syracuse University Orange Plus Hall of Fame. Legette-Jack and her husband, David, have one son, David Maceo (4) and reside in East Meadow, New York.

The Future’s so Bright, I Gotta Wear Shades: Hofstra’s group of four true freshmen and one red-shirt freshman have certainly made an impact this season in leading the Pride to a 14-13 overall record and a 11-7 CAA mark. Here is a look at how much these “young guns” have contributed to Hofstra’s fast start:

Minutes Played
Have accounted for 2558 out of 5425 (47.2 %)

Points Scored
Have accounted for 892 out of 1702 (52.4 %)

Rebounds
Have accounted for 485 out of 1069 (45.4 %)

Blocked Shots
Have accounted for 144 out of 364 (39.6 %)

The Future’s so Bright, Part Deux: Hofstra’s five freshmen have had their share of strong games this season. To see what they have meant to success of the Pride this season, take a look at how often they have led or been tied for the team-lead in certain categories.

Scoring
A true or red-shirt freshman has led or been tied for the team-lead in scoring 13 times this season.

Rebounding
A true or red-shirt freshman has led or been tied for the team-lead in rebounding 17 times this season.

Assists
A true or red-shirt freshman has led or been tied for the team-lead in assists 13 times this season.

Steals
A true or red-shirt freshman has led or been tied for the team-lead in steals 17 times this season.

Blocked Shots
A true or red-shirt freshman has led or been tied for the team-lead in blocked shots 11 times this season.

Last Night I Messed Around And (Nearly) Got A Triple-Double: With her six points, 10 assists and 14 rebounds vs. Canisius on November 30 at the Binghamton Time Warner Classic, Hofstra senior guard Staceyann Claxton nearly became the first player in Hofstra Women’s Basketball history to tally a triple-double.

Close Calls: Although Hofstra finished the regular season with 14 victories, their most since 1993-1994, the Pride very nearly could have picked up four additional victories. Four of their losses were by four or fewer points, including their last two losses (home vs. George Mason and at UNC Wilmington).

Lights, Camera, Action:

With their 55-49 victory over Princeton on December 13, the Hofstra Women's Basketball team improved to 3-0 over the past three seasons when televised by Fox Sports New York at Hofstra Arena. If you count their two CAA Sun Trust Game of the Week telecasts they are 4-1 on television in the past three seasons.

2/17/02: @ Hofstra 79, Drexel 65
2/8/03: @ Hofstra 80, William & Mary 78
12/13/03: @ Hofstra 55, Princeton 49

CAA Telecasts:

2/23/03: @ Delaware 65, Hofstra 47 (Metro TV)
1/25/04: Hofstra 48, @ James Madison 37 (Fox Sports NY)

Nice Start Coach:

With a victory in her first game as head coach (an 88-62 win over St. Francis (NY) on November 23, 2002), Felisha Legette-Jack became the first Hofstra Women's Basketball Head Coach to win their first game as coach since Lorraine Hoffman defeated Long Island University, 67-45, to begin her Hofstra Head Coaching career at the start of the 1987-1988 season.

Nice To See You Again:

Red-shirt freshman guard Cigi McCollin has returned to the Pride lineup after missing all but the first five games of the 2002-2003 season and has not missed a beat. McCollin, who is averaging a team third-best 8.0 points and 2.5 rebounds per game, led the Pride in scoring in the first two games of the season. McCollin has scored in double figures in six of Hofstra’s last 13 games.

First Half Heroics:

Senior guard Urszula Smolarek and freshman forward Lizanne Murphy each had a strong opening half as Hofstra built a four-point advantage, 31-27, against Princeton on December 13. Smolarek tallied all nine of her points, on 3-5 from beyond the arc, while Murphy had eight points, seven rebounds and three assists in the first twenty minutes of the game. The scoring total for each would be their final point total as Hofstra went on to defeat the Tigers, 55-49.

From Beyond The Arc:

Hofstra tied a season-high with nine made three-pointers against James Madison on February 29. Previously Hofstra sank nine against Quinnipiac on November 25.

Four Degrees of Separation:

Although the Pride was not ranked in any of the recent national polls, it looks as though they can stake a claim to the top spot in the nation by virtue of:

- Hofstra defeated Old Dominion, 74-72 (1/18/04).
- Old Dominion defeated #5 (AP) Penn State, 75-68.
- #5 (AP) Penn State defeated #3 (AP) Texas, 79-59.
- #3 (AP) Texas defeated #1 (AP) Tennessee, 70-60.

We’re Having a Block Party:

Senior center Rume Pela, who posted a team-high 43 blocks in 2002-2003, has 103 blocks in her three-plus seasons at Hofstra. She became only the third member of the 100 block club at Hofstra with her first block vs. James Madison on February 29. Her 103 blocks currently rank third all-time at Hofstra. The 43 blocks last season were tied for the third most in a single season in Hofstra Basketball history. Pela ranks third on the Pride in blocks this season with 12.

Most Blocked Shots – Career:

2003-2004 Accolades:

- Staceyann Claxton – All-Tournament Team at the FIU Sun & Fun Herald Classic (10.5 ppg and 3.0 rpg)
- Amaka Agugua – CAA Player of the Week on 12/15 (18.5 ppg, 6.0 rpg, 16-23 (69.6 %) FG) HU 2-0
- Lizanne Murphy – CAA Rookie of the Week on 12/29 (9.0 ppg, 6.5 rpg, 2.0 spg) HU 0-2
- Lizanne Murphy – CAA Rookie of the Week on 1/19 (10.5 ppg, 4.5 rpg, 9-10 (90 %) FT) HU 1-1
- Amaka Agugua – CAA Player of the Week on 2/9 (16.5 ppg, 8.5 rpg, 12-15 (80 %) FG) HU 2-0

I’m In A North Carolina State Of Mind:

Red-shirt freshman guard Cigi McCollin established her season-high of 16 points in the Pride’s season opener at the University of North Carolina – Chapel Hill. She then tied it in Hofstra’s regular season finale at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.
2004 Hofstra/CAA Legend: Marjorie Shuart, a 1960 graduate of Hofstra University, was a two-year letterwinner on the Hofstra Women’s Basketball team in 1951 and 1952. After receiving her degree in elementary education, Shuart taught first grade and in 1979 earned a master’s in social work from Adelphi University in Garden City, New York. In 1982 Shuart began her career in government, working as a social worker with the Nassau County Department of Mental Health. She served the department in a variety of positions until she was appointed deputy commissioner in 1988. In 1992, she was promoted to commissioner of the department, a post she held until retiring in 1997. In addition to her commissionership, Shuart was a member of the Nassau County HIV Commission, the Mental Health Committee of the New York State Conference of Mental Hygiene Directors and the Nassau County Health and Welfare Council. Since her retirement Shuart has served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Nassau County Mental Health Association and is on the Board of the Logan Foundation. She is also chair of the Nassau County Early Intervention Community Council. Shuart was honored in 1997 by the Nassau County AHRC Foundation with their Humanitarian Award for her outstanding efforts and devotion to helping children and adults with developmental disabilities and their families. Shuart and her husband James, President Emeritus of Hofstra University; have two children and three grandchildren.

Comeback Kids: In Hofstra's first seven victories this season, the Pride had to overcome second half deficits in order to pick up the victory. In two of the games Hofstra trailed by at least nine points in the second half and in another they were behind with less than three minutes to play. The Pride added to its “Comeback Kids” nickname on February 8 when they came from behind against Towson.

Against Quinnipiac: Trailing 55-46 with 7:46 left before closing the game on a 19-7 run. Won 65-62

Against Rhode Island: Trailing 39-29 with 17:50 left before a 22-11 run gave the Pride the lead. Won 66-61

Against Princeton: Trailing 49-48 with 2:28 remaining before scoring the final seven points of the game. Won 55-49

Against Virginia Commonwealth (HOME): Trailing 37-36 at half until a three-pointer 19 seconds into the second half gave the Pride the lead for good. Won 75-70

Against UNC Wilmington (HOME): Trailing 36-33 with 17:36 remaining before a 7-0 spurt erased the deficit. Hofstra never trailed again in pulling away for the double-digit victory.

Won 79-68

Against William & Mary (AWAY): Trailing 37-33 at half before opening the second half on a 12-3 run. William & Mary would tie the game at 49 before the Pride added an 11-4 run to give them the lead for good. Won 76-67

Against Old Dominion (HOME): Trailing 41-36 at halftime before beginning the second half on a 14-0 run to take a 50-41 lead with 16:07 remaining. The Pride would never trail again in posting arguably their greatest victory ever. Won 74-72

Against Towson (HOME): Trailing 60-59 with 36 seconds remaining before a game-closing 7-1 run. Won 66-61

Legette-Jack Honored by BIG EAST: As part of the BIG EAST Conference's 25th Anniversary celebration, the league has announced its Silver Anniversary Women's Basketball Team. The 15-member team was selected by a fan poll conducted on the conference website. Women's basketball has provided the BIG EAST with five national titles, several national players of the year and numerous consensus All-Americans. The Silver Anniversary Team will be honored at the league’s annual women’s basketball championship awards dinner on March 5, the eve of the BIG EAST Championship being held at the Hartford Civic Center on March 6-9.

The team (in alphabetical order) is as follows:

- Kerry Bascom, Connecticut ’91
- Sarah Behn, Boston College ’93
- Sue Bird, Connecticut ’02
- Jodi Brooks, Seton Hall ’94
- Jennifer Bruce, Pittsburgh ’85
- Sabrina Johnson, St. John’s ’90

Felisha Legette (Jack), Syracuse ’89 earned all-conference three times in her career. She is SU’s all-time leading rebounder (927) and ranks second on the scoring list (1,526). In addition, Legette-Jack earned Kodak All-American honorable mention accolades twice and was named the 1985 BIG EAST Conference Rookie of the Year. She has also been named to three different Halls of Fame: Greater Syracuse Hall of Fame, Syracuse Urban League Hall of Fame and the Syracuse University Orange Plus Hall of Fame.

- Tracy Lis, Providence ’92
- Rebecca Lobo, Connecticut ’95
- Shelly Pennefather, Villanova ’87
- Tasha Pointer, Rutgers ’01
- Ruth Riley, Notre Dame ’01
- Jennifer Rizzotti, Connecticut ’96

Pride after 27 Games: The 14-13 mark after 27 games this season is Hofstra’s third-best record after 27 games since the program became Division I in 1982-1983.

Steppin' Up: Freshman forward Lana Harshaw certainly made the most of her opportunity playing in place of then-injured junior forward Amaka Agugua. Harshaw, who got the first start of her career at James Madison, contributed double-doubles in each of her first two starts at JMU and home vs. Drexel. She had 11 points and 10 rebounds vs. the Dukes and followed that up with 11 points and a career-high 11 rebounds vs. the Dragons. Harshaw scored in double figures in the first six starts of her career, and is also second on the team with four double-doubles.

Happy New Year: With a 7-1 record in January, Hofstra had its first winning month since going 2-1 in November of 2002. The last time Hofstra won at least six games in a month was December of 1993 when they earned a 6-1 mark.

Running with the Big Dogs: Hofstra’s 7-1 January record (87.5 winning percentage) was slightly better than the defending champions from the University of Connecticut, who finished January with a 7-2 mark (77.7 winning percentage).

Cleaning the Glass: Hofstra has not been out-rebounded in 14 of its last 17 games. The lone times they didn’t out-rebound their opponent was at Old Dominion when the Lady Monarchs had a 54-26 rebounding margin, at Virginia Commonwealth when the Rams had a 48-41 advantage on the glass and most recently home vs. George Mason (34-33). Three times during that stretch the Pride out-rebounded its opponent by 12 and once by 17. In CAA games only, Hofstra has a +3.4 rebounding margin, which ranks fourth in the conference. In addition, in CAA games only they are second in the conference in both offensive and defensive rebounds.

De-Fense: The 37 points scored by James Madison in Hofstra’s 48-37 win on January 25 was the fewest points scored by a Hofstra opponent since St. John’s mustered 34 in a 61-34 loss to the Pride on November 23, 2001.

Going for a Dozen: Hofstra has already had 11 different starting lineups this season.

Now That's More Like It: The Pride poured in a season first-half high 43 points against James Madison on February 29. To put that number in perspective, Hofstra totaled 48 points in their 48-37 victory over the Dukes on January 25.

Offense?: The 48 points scored by Hofstra in their 48-37 victory over James Madison was the fewest points the Pride has scored in a win since defeating Army, 48-46, in the 15th game of Hofstra’s inaugural season of Division I basketball in 1982-1983.

To put that in perspective, here are some numbers to digest:
- It had been more than 21 years since Hofstra scored that few of points and won a game.
- Hofstra had played 589 games in that span and had won 209 games and had scored at least 49 points in all of them.

Offense: The 87 points scored against William & Mary on February 5 was a season-high for the Pride, and their most since scoring 89 in an 89-70 victory over Fairfield on November 30, 2002.

Hometown Flavor: Hofstra has seven players on their roster from the New York tri-state area, including three of the freshmen. The players from the Empire State are: senior Staceyann Claxton (Hempstead, NY) and red-shirt freshman Cigi McCollin (Long Island City, NY). Hailing from the Garden State is: senior Tara Dilworth (Sparta, NJ), senior Rume Pela (Cherry Hill, NJ), freshman Shalamar Oakley (Camden, NJ) and freshman Lana Harshaw (Wildwood, NJ). Freshman Vanessa Gidden is from the Constitution State (Stamford, CT).

They Aren’t Freshmen Anymore: Hofstra’s freshmen had quite an outing at home against Old Dominion as they accounted for the Pride’s final 24 points of the game and 28 of Hofstra’s 38 second half points.

Controlling the Boards: In the Pride’s 48-37 victory over James Madison on January 25, Hofstra out-rebounded the Dukes, 56-44. It was the most rebounds Hofstra has had in a game since pulling down 59 in a 61-34 win over St. John’s on November 23, 2001.

Long Time Coming: The double-double (16 points, 10 rebounds) by freshman forward Lizanne Murphy against UNC Wilmington on January 9 was Hofstra’s first home double-double since then-sophomore forward Amaka Agugua had 19 points and 14 rebounds against William & Mary on February 8, 2003.

Pride At Home: Hofstra had an impressive 9-2 mark in the friendly confines of Hofstra Arena this season. The nine home victories are the second-most, only eclipsed by the 1982-1983 squad that had an 11-2 mark at home.

Top Five Home Records
1. 1982-1983 (11-2) – 84.6 %
2. 2003-2004 (9-2) – 81.8 %
3. 1983-1984 (7-4) – 63.6 %
4. 1987-1988 (8-5) – 61.5 %
5. 1988-1989 (5-4) – 55.5 %
Shooting Star: Junior forward Amaka Agugua, who set the single season field goal percentage record at 53.8% last season, has not missed a beat in 2003-2004. Overall this season, Agugua, is shooting at a 57.4% (132-230) clip and in CAA games that number improves to 61.5% (75-122). She has shot at least 50% in each of the first 10 CAA games she has played in and above 65% in eight of them. Her overall field goal percentage ranks 13th in the NCAA and first in the Colonial Athletic Association. In her last 11 games played, Agugua is shooting a blistering 64.8% (61-94) from the field.

NCAA Field Goal Percentage Leaders (as of 3/1/04)
1. Katie Feenstra, Liberty (66.8)
2. Vanessa Wyffels, Wagner (66.2)
3. Janel McCarville, Minnesota (62.3)
4. Tera Bjorklund, Colorado (61.9)
5. Khara Smith, DePaul (61.6)
6. Gerlonda Hardin, Austin Peay (60.8)
7. Colleen Fitzpatrick, Lafayette (60.3)
8. Pam O’Connor, Eastern Illinois (60.1)
9. Le’Coe Willingham, Auburn (60.1)
10. Katie Flavin, Richmond (59.9)
11. Beth Swink, St. Francis (PA) (59.7)
12. LaToya Turner, Ohio State (58.2)
13. AMAKA AGUGUA, Hofstra (57.7)

Smooth Sailing: The 21-point margin of victory (87-66) vs. William & Mary on February 5 was the Pride largest margin of victory since defeating St. Francis (NY), 88-62, on November 16, 2002. The 87-points scored were also a season-high for the Pride.

Welcome Back: The Pride welcomed back two players this season which sat out all or nearly all of the 2002-2003 season. Senior Tara Dilworth missed the entire 2002-2003 season with a wrist injury, while red-shirt freshman Cigi McCollin missed all but the first five games of the season after suffering a knee injury against Stetson on December 6. Dilworth, who averaged 5.7 points and team-highs of 5.2 rebounds and 1.1 blocks per game in 2001-2002, attended the Pete Newell Big Man Camp this past summer. McCollin, on the other hand, won the first two Colonial Athletic Association Rookie of the Week honors before suffering her season-ending injury.

A Game of Firsts: The Virginia Commonwealth victory on January 4 was Hofstra’s first win in their conference opener since joining the CAA prior to the 2001-2002 season and also their first win in their conference opener since defeating Hartford, 51-46, to begin America East play in 1998-1999.

Sweet Shooting: The Pride shot 55.2% from the field against Rhode Island on December 9, marking the first time since shooting 57.4% in an 89-70 win over Fairfield on November 30, 2002 that Hofstra has shot over 50% from the field in a victory.

More on Rhode Island: The win over Rhode Island on December 9 was Hofstra’s first over an Atlantic 10 opponent since knocking off Fordham, 61-52, on December 29, 1999.

Rebounding Machine: Hofstra out-rebounded Rhode Island 32-22 in their 66-61 win over the Rams on December 9. It marked the fewest rebounds for a Hofstra opponent since St. Francis (NY) also pulled down 22 on December 11, 1999 in an 82-68 Pride victory.

Home, Sweet Home: Freshman Guard Shalamar Oakley has certainly made herself feel at home in Hofstra Arena in CAA games. In Hofstra’s nine home conference games she is averaging a team second-best 11.3 points (Agugua leads with 11.6 ppg), while in the nine road CAA contests that number dips to 8.8 points per game. Oakley poured in a game and career-high 23 points at home against James Madison on February 29. It was the second-highest single season point total by a Hofstra player this season.

Stop, Thief: Senior guard Staceyann Claxton, who currently leads the Pride in steals with 64, has 46 steals in Hofstra’s last 15 games (3.1 spg). She tied her career-high with seven steals in Hofstra’s victory over Old Dominion on January 18. Claxton’s career steals total of 171 currently ranks tenth all-time at Hofstra.

Going Out On A High Note: Senior center Tara Dilworth, who nearing the end of her five seasons as a part of the Hofstra Women’s Basketball program, is certainly making the most of her few games left in a Pride uniform. Dilworth has tallied double figures in two of the Pride’s past three games, marking the first time since the final two games of the 2001-2002 season that she has scored in double figures in back-to-back games. Against George Mason on February 26, Dilworth scored a season-high 14 points, which was one off of her career-high of 15 set against William & Mary in 2002. She came back on February 29 and chipped in with 10 in Hofstra’s 19-point (76-57) victory over James Madison.

Nice Job, Newcomers: Of the eight players on the Pride roster who were not active at the end of last season (four freshmen, two transfers, two red-shirts), seven saw action in Hofstra’s season opener against #14 North Carolina on November 23. The non-returnees totaled 30 of Hofstra’s 45 points (67%) and 31 of the Pride’s 41 rebounds (76%).
No Overtime, Please: It has been 20 long years since a Hofstra Women's Basketball team won a game in overtime. The Pride, who has played seven overtime games since their last extra session victory, last lost an overtime game on November 30 when they were defeated by Canisius, 78-74, at the Binghamton Time Warner Classic. On January 26, 1984, the Pride defeated Marist College, 61-60, for their last overtime win.

Pouring It On: The 48 points scored in the second half against UNC Wilmington on January 9 was Hofstra's highest scoring half since dropping 50 points in the second half in an 87-81 overtime loss to Virginia Commonwealth last February 8, 2003.

Ranked Team: The game against the Tar Heels on November 23 marked Hofstra's first against a ranked opponent since February 22, 2002 when the Pride dropped a 90-57 decision to #18 Old Dominion. The #14 Tar Heels were also the highest ranked team that Hofstra has ever faced.

Smolarek Shines: Senior guard Urszula Smolarek came up huge in Hofstra's 66-61 victory over Rhode Island on December 9 as she tallied nine points, eight assists and four steals. The assists and steals total were career-highs for Smolarek, who was a perfect 6-6 from the free throw line in the final 1:34 of the contest.

No More Road Woes: The 66-61 win over Rhode Island on December 9 ended a 15-game road losing skid for the Pride. Hofstra's last road victory prior to the URI win came on December 6, 2002 when they defeated Stetson, 71-63.

Double Your Fun: Hofstra finished the 2002-2003 campaign with nine double-doubles. All the double-doubles last season were of the point/rebound variety. Here is a list of the 11 double-doubles in the 2003-2004 regular season by Hofstra players...

Amaka Agugua
- 27 points, 12 rebounds vs. Canisius
- 20 points, 13 rebounds at Columbia
- 18 points, 11 rebounds vs. William & Mary
- 10 points, 10 rebounds vs. James Madison
- 10 points, 11 rebounds at UNC Wilmington

Lana Harshaw
- 11 points, 10 rebounds at James Madison
- 11 points, 11 rebounds vs. Drexel
- 10 points, 10 rebounds vs. Towson
- 10 points, 11 rebounds at Virginia Commonwealth

Staceyann Claxton
- 10 assists, 14 rebounds vs. Canisius

Lizzanne Murphy
- 16 points, 10 rebounds vs. UNC Wilmington

New Look, Same Goal: Although the Pride returned only five letterwinners from a season ago, the goal of pursuing championships remains the same. Hofstra has added four talented freshman and one junior college transfer. In addition, Hofstra returns two players (Dilworth and McCollin) who red-shirted during the 2002-2003 season. If you are counting at home, that means that the 2003-2004 Pride roster includes eight players who were not on the active roster at the end of the 2002-2003 season.

McSpadden to Join Pride in 04-05: Hofstra University Head Women's Basketball Coach Felisha Legette-Jack announced on November 25 the signing of Jenna McSpadden, a 5-11 guard from Austin, Texas, to a National Letter of Intent to play for the Pride beginning in the 2004-2005 academic year. “We are absolutely thrilled that Jenna has decided to join our Hofstra Women's Basketball Team,” stated Legette-Jack. “She will help us tremendously with her ability to shoot the outside shot. Her attention to her academics and athletics will help our team continue its journey of pursuing championships on and off the court. We welcome Jenna wholeheartedly to our Pride family.” McSpadden averaged 17.8 points per game as a junior at Hyde Park Baptist High School in Austin, Texas. McSpadden played for Coach Vickie Benson at Hyde Park and was a first team all-state and all-district selection as a junior, McSpadden nailed 96 three-pointers, while playing 26 minutes a game. In addition, she was named the three-point field goal champion for private schools by the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches (TABC). An all-tournament selection in the state championships last year, McSpadden has also been named all-district in softball and volleyball and all-state in volleyball.

Hofstra Basketball to air on WGBB: Hofstra University and WGBB Radio (1240 AM), located in West Babylon, New York, have reached an agreement to air a number of Hofstra sporting events throughout the year. All broadcasts will be produced by WRHU-FM and will also be available on the Hofstra Athletics Web Channel (HAWC) with the pregame show beginning 15 minutes prior to start time.

Women's Basketball Games that aired on WGBB (1240 AM)
- Sunday, January 4 – HOME vs. Virginia Commonwealth (W 75-70)
- Sunday, February 8 – HOME vs. Towson (W 66-61)
- Sunday, February 29 – HOME vs. James Madison (W 76-57)

WGBB proved to be good luck to the Pride this season as Hofstra compiled a 3-0 record in games broadcast on WGBB (1240 AM).
Scott Leaves Team: Hofstra University Head Women’s Basketball Coach Felisha Legette-Jack announced on December 8 that junior forward Megan Scott (Oak Hill, VA/Oakton) has left the team for personal reasons. “We wish Megan the best of luck in her future endeavors,” stated Legette-Jack. Scott started four of Hofstra’s first five games this season, averaging 5.8 points and 3.3 rebounds per game. She appeared in 58 games in her Pride career, scoring 317 points and grabbing 230 rebounds. She tallied her career-high of 17 points against William & Mary on February 8 of last season, and had 11 rebounds vs. Morehead State in December of 2002.

Burke Departs: Hofstra University Head Women’s Basketball Coach Felisha Legette-Jack announced on January 2 that sophomore guard Darby Burke (Baltimore, MD/Riverdale Baptist/Canisius) has left the team for personal reasons. Burke appeared in five games this season, averaging 4.2 minutes per contest. She had a total of three rebounds and one assist in those games.

Game One at North Carolina
A 29-9 run to end the first half and a 27-0 run to start the second half doomed the Pride in their season opener with the Tar Heels. Cigi McCollin scored a team-high 16 points in her first game back since missing the majority of last season following major knee surgery. The 14th ranked Tar Heels are the highest ranked team that Hofstra has ever faced and it was the Pride 10th all-time meeting with a team from the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Game Two vs. Quinnipiac
Red-shirt freshman guard Cigi McCollin scored a team-high 14 points and nailed three free throws in the final 14 seconds as Hofstra University rallied from a nine-point deficit with 7:46 left to defeat Quinnipiac University, 65-62, in the home opener for the Pride.

Game Three at Binghamton
Jen Blues and Kate Townley each scored a game-high 15 points, and Binghamton outscored Hofstra, 44-25, in the second half en route to a 64-44 victory over Hofstra in the opening round of the Binghamton Time Warner Classic. Hofstra was led by Amaka Agugua’s eight points and nine rebounds.

Game Four vs. Canisius
Despite a career-high 27 points from Amaka Agugua and career-highs of 10 assists and 14 rebounds from Staceyann Claxton, Hofstra dropped the consolation game of the Binghamton Time Warner Classic to Canisius in overtime, 78-74. The Golden Griffins scored the first five points of overtime and never looked back.

Game Five at Columbia
Columbia jumped out to a 10-0 lead to start the game and never looked as they posted a 76-62 victory over Hofstra on December 4. Amaka Agugua had her second straight strong game as she tallied 20 points and a game-high 13 rebounds. Cigi McCollin and Staceyann Claxton were also in double figures with 15 and 11, respectively.

Game Six at Rhode Island: The Rams scored the first eight points of the second half to open up a 39-29 advantage with 17:50 remaining in the game before the Pride responded with a 22-11 run to take the lead for good. Amaka Agugua tallied game-highs of 23 points and seven rebounds in the win, while Urszula Smolarek added nine points (including 6-6 from the free throw line in the final 1:35), eight assists and four steals. It marked the third straight game that Agugua has tallied 20 or more points.
Game Seven vs. Princeton: Amaka Agugua scored a team-high 14 points and Hofstra outscored Princeton, 70, over the final 2:28 of the game as the Pride earned their second consecutive victory with a 55-49 decision over the Tigers. Lana Harshaw added 12 points and six rebounds in the win, while Lizanne Murphy chipped in with eight points, eight rebounds and six assists. The rebounding and assists total for Murphy were game-highs.

Game Eight vs. Pepperdine: Lizanne Murphy tallied a game-high 13 points and added eight rebounds and four steals in 40 minutes of action, but 23 turnovers and 7-18 (38.9) shooting from the free throw line did the Pride in as they dropped a heartbreaking 52-50 decision to the Waves in the opening round of the FIU Sun & Fun Herald Classic in Miami, Florida. Vanessa Gidden pulled down a game-high 11 rebounds in the game and Staceyann Claxton had nine points.

Game Nine at Florida International: Florida International began the game on a 14-0 run and never looked back in cruising to an 80-56 win over Hofstra in the consolation game of the FIU Sun & Fun Herald Classic in Miami, Florida. Hofstra would close the gap to ten in the second half, 61-51, but the Golden Panthers closed the game on a 19-5 run to earn the victory. Hofstra got 12 points a piece from Staceyann Claxton and Shalamar Oakley. Claxton was named to the all-tournament team following the game.

Game 10 vs. Virginia Commonwealth: Hofstra opened the second half on a 14-5 to lead 50-42 and never looked back in earning a 75-70 victory over the Rams. The Pride withstood a late VCU rally that saw them cut a 13-point deficit with 55 seconds left to five in the span of 36 seconds. It was Hofstra’s first conference opening win since defeating Hartford, 51-46, to open America East play in 1998-1999. Hofstra was led by Staceyann Claxton’s 16 points and Amaka Agugua’s 15 points and nine rebounds.

Game 11 vs. UNC Wilmington: A 15-4 run early in the second half gave Hofstra a 48-40 lead and the Pride would never trail again in earning a 79-68 victory over UNC Wilmington. The Pride was led by freshman guard Shalamar Oakley, who poured in a game-high 21 points in 20 minutes of action. Freshman forward Lizanne Murphy added the first double-double of her career with 16 points and 10 rebounds.

Game 12 at William & Mary: Hofstra Trailled 37-33 at half before opening the second half on a 12-3 run. William & Mary would tie the game at 49 before the Pride added an 11-4 run to give them the lead for good and they earned a 76-67 victory over the Tribe. Junior forward Amaka Agugua poured in a game-high 19 points, including 15 in the second half to pace the Pride. Three freshmen joined Agugua in double figures as forward Lana Harshaw had 12, while guard Shalamar Oakley and center Vanessa Gidden each chipped in with 10.

Game 13 at Delaware: The Fightin’ Blue Hens began the game on a 20-6 run and held Hofstra without a field goal for the first 7:52 of the game as they cruised to a 78-47 victory over the Pride. Junior forward Amaka Agugua was the lone member of the Pride in double figures with 10 points, while freshman center Vanessa Gidden had a strong game with eight points and 13 rebounds.

Game 14 vs. Old Dominion: Freshman forward Lizanne Murphy led five players, including three freshmen, in double figures with 17 points as Hofstra posted a come-from-behind 74-72 stunning victory over the 12-time defending CAA champions Old Dominion. Murphy added a team-high six rebounds as the Pride scored the first 14 points of the second half to take control of the game. Hofstra’s freshmen accounted for the Pride’s final 24 points and scored 28 of Hofstra’s 38 second half points.

Game 15 at Towson: Hofstra used a 17-6 run to end the first half to take a 35-20 lead into the break and were never seriously challenged again in pulling away for a 69-51 victory over Towson. Hofstra was led by senior guard Staceyann Claxton with 14 points and six steals, while red-shirt freshman guard Cigi McCollin added 13 points and four rebounds.

Game 16 at James Madison: A 16-3 run midway through the second proved to be the difference as Hofstra pulled away for a 48-37 victory over James Madison. The Pride held the Dukes to 9% shooting in the first half and 19 % for the game in holding JMU to the lowest scoring total for a Hofstra opponent since St. John’s scored 34 in a 61-34 loss to the Pride on November 23, 2001. Red-shirt freshman guard Cigi McCollin came off the bench to lead the Pride with 15, while freshman forward Lana Harshaw got the first start of her young career and responded with 11 points and 10 rebounds.

Game 17 vs. Drexel: With Hofstra leading 18-16 midway through the first half, the Pride engineered a 16-2 to break the game open and never looked back in posting a 70-57 victory over Drexel. Freshman Shalamar Oakley led three freshmen in double figures with 13 points as Hofstra posted their fourth straight victory, the longest since a five-game win streak in 1999-2000.
Game 18 at George Mason: George Mason set a school record with 15 three-pointers and used a 17-4 run early in the second half to blow open a close game in notching a 92-64 victory over Hofstra. The Pride, which scored the first nine points of the contest, saw their four-game win streak come to an end. Hofstra was led by Cigi McCollin, who scored 14 points off the bench.

Game 19 vs. William & Mary: Hofstra used a 19-8 run overlapping the first and second half to turn a 34-all game with 31 seconds left in the first half into a 53-42 Pride advantage with 15:18 left in the game. Hofstra would never be seriously challenged again and posted a 87-66 victory over the Tribe. It was their largest margin of victory this season and also a season-high in points for the Pride. Hofstra was led in the game by Amaka Agugua’s game-higos of 18 points and 11 rebounds.

Game 20 vs. Towson: Freshman Lizanne Murphy scored the game-winning layup with 15 seconds remaining as Hofstra outscored Towson 7-1 over the final 36 seconds to earn the 66-61 victory over the Tigers. Junior Amaka Agugua led Hofstra with 15 points, while freshman Lana Harshaw posted her third career double-double with 10 points and 10 rebounds.

Game 21 at Old Dominion: Max Nhassengo scored 27 points, including 17 in the first half alone, to lead the Old Dominion Women's Basketball team to a 105-62 win over Hofstra as the Lady Monarchs avenged their only conference loss this season. Hofstra was led in scoring in the game by freshman Shalamar Oakley with 20 points.

Game 22 vs. Delaware: Hofstra saw its school-record eight game home court winning streak come to an end as Delaware defeated the Pride, 67-59, behind the game-highs of 25 points and 10 rebounds from Tiara Malcom. Hofstra, which had a season-high 32 turnovers, was led in scoring by freshman Shalamar Oakley with 20 points.

Game 23 at Virginia Commonwealth: Cyndy Wilks scored 23 points and Lauren Hogan added 17 second half points as Virginia Commonwealth used a quick 6-0 run to break and 61-all tie and never looked back in posting the 83-73 victory over Hofstra. The Pride got a team-high 16 points from junior Amaka Agugua and freshman Lana Harshaw tallied her team-leading fourth double-double of the season with 10 points and 11 rebounds in the contest.

Game 24 at Drexel: Junior Amaka Agugua led Hofstra with 14 points and freshman Shalamar Oakley hit two clutch jumpers in the final 1:14 to hold off a late Drexel rally as the Pride defeated the Dragons, 61-56, to put an end to their three-game losing skid. Hofstra scored the first seven points of the contest and never trailed in posting their first season sweep of Drexel since the 1997-1998 season. Senior Staceyann Claxton added 13 points and Oakley finished with 11 in the five-point victory.

Game 25 vs. George Mason: The Patriots overcame an 11-point halftime deficit and Vernessa Neamo sank one-of-two free throws with a second to go to give George Mason the exciting 57-56 victory over the Pride. Senior Tara Dilworth scored a team and personal season-high 14 points in the contest, while freshman Lizanne Murphy added 13 and junior Amaka Agugua chipped in with 11.

Game 26 vs. James Madison: Hofstra opened the game on a 22-7 run and never looked back in posting a 76-57 victory over James Madison. The Dukes would only get within nine twice in the second half, before the Pride pulled away for the 19-point victory. Freshman Shalamar Oakley poured in a game and career-high 23 points to lead the Pride. It was the second-highest single game scoring total by a Hofstra player this season. Junior Amaka Agugua added her fourth double-double of the season with 10 points and 10 rebounds.

Game 27 at UNC Wilmington: Tracy Morgan scored a game-high 22 points and added 10 rebounds to lead UNC Wilmington to a 65-61 win over Hofstra in the regular season finale for both teams. The Pride led 61-59 with 44 seconds left in the game, but the Seahawks scored the game’s final six points to earn the victory.
